Premier Hurt As Rioting Hits Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (UPI)—Congolese Premier Patrice Lumumba was slightly injured tonight while trying to help quell riots which broke out between his followers and rival federalist groups of Africans.

The rioting started when Lumumba's United Congo followers tried to enter the headquarters of the Federalist Abako Party leaders in the Dendale district of the capital.

The Abako members resisted the forced entrance of the Lumumba group and fighting broke out.

Abako vice president Vital Moanda was injured along with two Abako guards at the doorway.

Hearing of the fight, which rapidly attracted hundreds of onlookers, Lumumba jumped into a car and drove from his residence to the Dendale sector.

MOB OF THOUSANDS

Arriving at the Abako party headquarters, Lumumba tried to calm the mob which by then had risen to several thousands and was battling with police.

Lumumba jumped out of his car, but ran smack into Abako supporters. He was slapped around and punched in the face. But he dived back into his car and drove away, presumably back to his residence.

The rioting was the second report of violence during the day. Earlier, United Nations sources said five Tunisian soldiers of the U.N. contingent were killed in skirmishes with tribesmen in the Luluabourg area of Kasai province three days ago.

'COMPLETE HARMONY'

The violence followed an announcement in New York by U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold that "complete harmony of views" had been achieved with the Republic of the Congo on U.N. operations there.

Hammarskjold conferred for an hour and a half with the Congolese delegation.

The discussion centered on

Kidnap Case Figure May Get Freedom

Jesse Eugene Trout, former San Quentin Prison guard now serving a 10-year term for a 1957 kidnap-robbery in Oakland, may go free, it appeared today.

The California Supreme Court, by 5-2 vote, yesterday upheld the district court of appeals' reversal of Trout's conviction, on the basis that his wife was held hostage by Oakland police to force him to confess.

And J. Frank Coakley, Alameda County district attorney, said he may ask for dismissal rather than a retrial.

"Whether we will try Trout again depends largely on just how much of the state's case was emasculated by the supreme court," said Coakley. "And we won't know that until we have studied the opinion."

The case against Trout consisted largely of his confession. His alleged accomplice in the robbery, former San Quentin inmate Allen R. Hecht, was gunned to death in his Fairfax apartment.

Trout, now 32, was arrested and convicted as the driver of the getaway car used in the robbery of an Oakland market on the night of Dec. 22, 1957. On that night, two men went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine R. Groo, operators of the market, forced them to open the store, then locked them in a walk-in refrigerator

U.S. LAUNCHES DISCOVERER AT VANDENBERG

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (UPI) — The United States hurled a Discoverer satellite toward orbit today hoping to end a string of disappointments in recovering a capsule from space — or find out what caused the failures.

Discoverer XIII, fired through a low overcast, was termed a "diagnostic shot" by Air Force rocket experts who have fired the 19-foot-long satellites into orbit over the poles six times but failed to recover the 33-by-27-inch bell-shaped capsule that rides in the nose.

It would be about two hours before project officers could tell if the 75-foot rocket had boosted the satellite into orbit. From the ground, the launch looked perfect as the Thor-Agena rocket blasted off at 1:38 p.m. PDT.

Soviets Oust U.S. Attache For 'Spy' Plot

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today accused the U.S. air attache, Col. Edwin M. Kirton, of setting up a spy apparatus here. It ordered him to leave the Soviet Union.

His assistant, Capt. Irving T. MacDonald of Provincetown, Mass., was warned on similar charges but was not told to leave the country.

The two men returned just this afternoon from a trip to the Soviet far north. During this trip, the Foreign Ministry charged, they photographed forbidden military factories and equipment. It said Kirton had been picked up by police in Odessa last winter for doing the same thing.

Both men had hoped to be observers at the trial of U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers next week. Kirton made an expert inspection of the U-2 wreckage.

Kirton, 50, returned with U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson from Frankfurt on the ambassador's U.S. Air Force plane this afternoon. He

Arson Probed In Blaze Fatal To Belvedere Mother, 34

Father, Daughter Survive Holocaust

Possibility of arson was being investigated in a Belvedere home fire that claimed the life of a 34-year-old mother early today.

Belvedere firemen had the blaze at 110 Bella Vista Avenue under control within five minutes of receiving a call at 3:40 a.m., reported Fire Chief Lawrence T. (Buck) Mersereau. But they were too late to save the life of Mrs. Noney Thomas Hall, wife of a prominent contractor and mother of a 34-month-old daughter.

The bedroom in which Mrs. Hall was sleeping was completely gutted by the blaze. The bed and all other furnishings were consumed. Mrs. Hall was burned to death where she lay before firemen and Deputy Coroner Harold J. Keaton reached her.

Syd M. Hall, 44, Belvedere home builder and former Sausalito boat builder, told investigators he was awakened about 3:30 a.m. He had been spending the night in the baby's room, he said, so he could keep the child quiet and allow his wife to sleep late this morning, as she was extremely tired.

Crackling and popping sounds awakened him, he related. He looked out and saw a red glow on the windows.

Hall snatched up 34-month-old Malan and ran with her to the neighboring home of John B. Barnes at 104 Bella Vista. Leaving the baby there, he asked Barnes to call the fire department and rushed back to his own home.

Barnes called Belvedere police, who relayed the call immediately to the fire department.

Within four minutes, fire trucks were on the scene. Every one of Belvedere's 25 volunteer firemen responded to the call.

They found the distraught husband playing a stream from a garden hose on the flaming bedroom, trying unsuccessfully to fight his way in through the blaze.

The firemen had the flames under control within a minute. But it was several minutes more before they could reach the burned remnants of the bed and the body of Mrs. Hall.

All the furniture in the bedroom was destroyed, Mersereau said. Walls and ceiling were scorched. The fire had eaten through a door to a hallway, but the fire fighters stopped it there, saving the rest of the house.

Chief Mersereau estimated damage to the house itself at about $3,000, plus the furniture, clothing and personal effects destroyed in the bedroom and its closet.

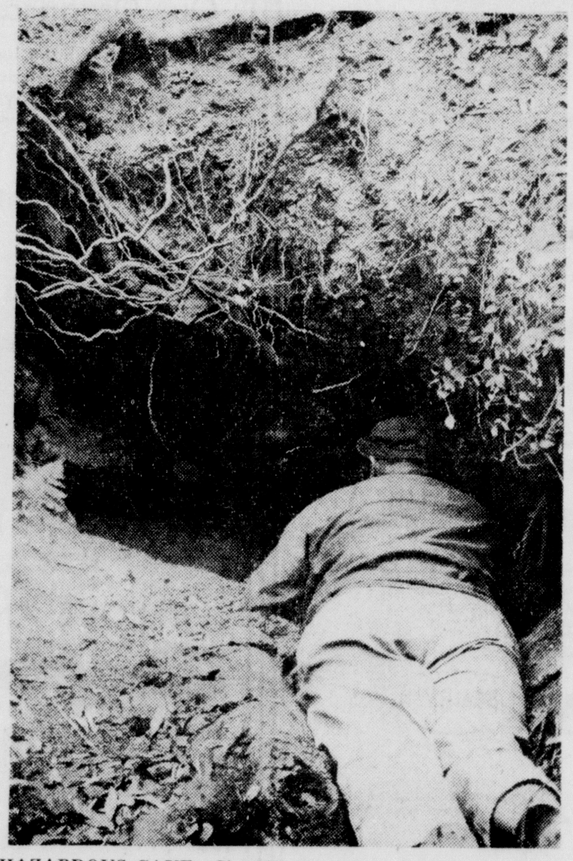

"It must have been burning an hour and a half to two hours before it was discovered," he estimated. It apparently started in the vicinity of the bed, he reported.

Cause of the fire could not be immediately determined, said Mersereau and Police Chief William M. Woodington. Deputy Coroner Keaton said the assumption was that Mrs. Hall was smoking in bed, fell asleep

IN OLD MINE CAVES
County Orders Two Swim Holes Closed

Two subterranean pools—believed to be secret swimming holes for teen-agers—in secluded Black Canyon were ordered closed by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

The chilly waters in two shale rock caves were discovered by Sheriff's Inspector William Bradley, acting on an anonymous tip. He said the holes are abandoned quicksilver mines.

Following a well-worn path behind Tweedie's General Store at 290 North San Pedro Road in Santa Venetia, Bradley found the two caves more than a mile back in the canyon.

The mouths are only big enough for two persons to squeeze through.

Inside, the water in one of the caves is more than 12 feet deep. It stretched back into the hillside farther than Bradley could see with his flashlight—at least 30 feet.

Bits of food were floating on the surface of the water. Two new planks of lumber had been driven into the bottom of the pool.

Bradley said his informant had reported that juveniles had been using the pools for swimming.

"Playing in these caves is just inviting tragedy," Bradley said. "A boy could easily drown or be trapped in a cave-in of the loose shale roof."

Permission was obtained from the owner of the backwoods area, Meriam Stetson of 241 North San Pedro Road, to seal the caves.

The board of supervisors approved the request of Marvin W. Brigham, director of public works, to blast the entrances with dynamite.

Mental Health Fund Rejected By County

A 3-2 vote by the Marin County Board of Supervisors today doomed Marin County participation in the state Short-Doyle community mental health services program during the present fiscal year.

After an hour and one-half of often-heated discussion in a crowded room, Supervisor Vera L. Schultz moved that the county follow recommendations of the Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board, which last May endorsed a budget of $86,000 for psychiatric services, half of which would be repaid by the state.

She was supported by Supervisor William Gnoss but "nos" were registered by Supervisors William D. Fusselman and James A. Marshall, leaving it to Chairman Walter R. Castro to cast the deciding vote.

Before breaking the suspense, Castro recalled that as a member of the advisory board he had not committed himself. But, he said, the county has never "let down" any department that needed funds for mental health work.

"I am not in favor of letting the state take control of any department," Castro continued. "I think we have time yet to wait, so my vote is no."

Mrs. Schultz had taken a leading part in previous discussion, declaring there is a need which Short-Doyle could help

Cuba To 'Respect' Church; Prelate Threatens 'Silence'

HAVANA (AP)—President Osvaldo Dortices early today assured the Cuban people Fidel Castro's regime will continue "respecting all religious cults" despite "provocations."

Speaking at a post-midnight labor rally, the president made no specific mention of the Roman Catholic hierarchy's pastoral letter last Sunday warning of the advance of communism in Cuba. Nor did he refer to the threat Tuesday by the archbishop coadjuter of Havana to close all Catholic churches on the island and suspend church services unless the government calls off pro-Castro demonstrators harassing anti-communist churchgoers.

But in an apparent reference to the pastoral letter, Dortices said: "These imputations will fall into a void and they will be applauded only by those who have interests that demand that applause."

Hurried to palace

DEMONSTRATION

Dortices spoke a few hours after a demonstration outside Havana Cathedral sent Rt. Rev. Msgr. Evelio Diaz hurrying to the presidential palace with a warning that he would close all Catholic churches in Cuba today and declare the church "in silence"—the Vatican's term for the church's restricted operations in Communist countries—unless the government guarantees the safety of churchgoers.

Msgr. Diaz has taken over administration of the church in Cuba as a result of the poor health of Manuel Cardinal Arteaga, 80.

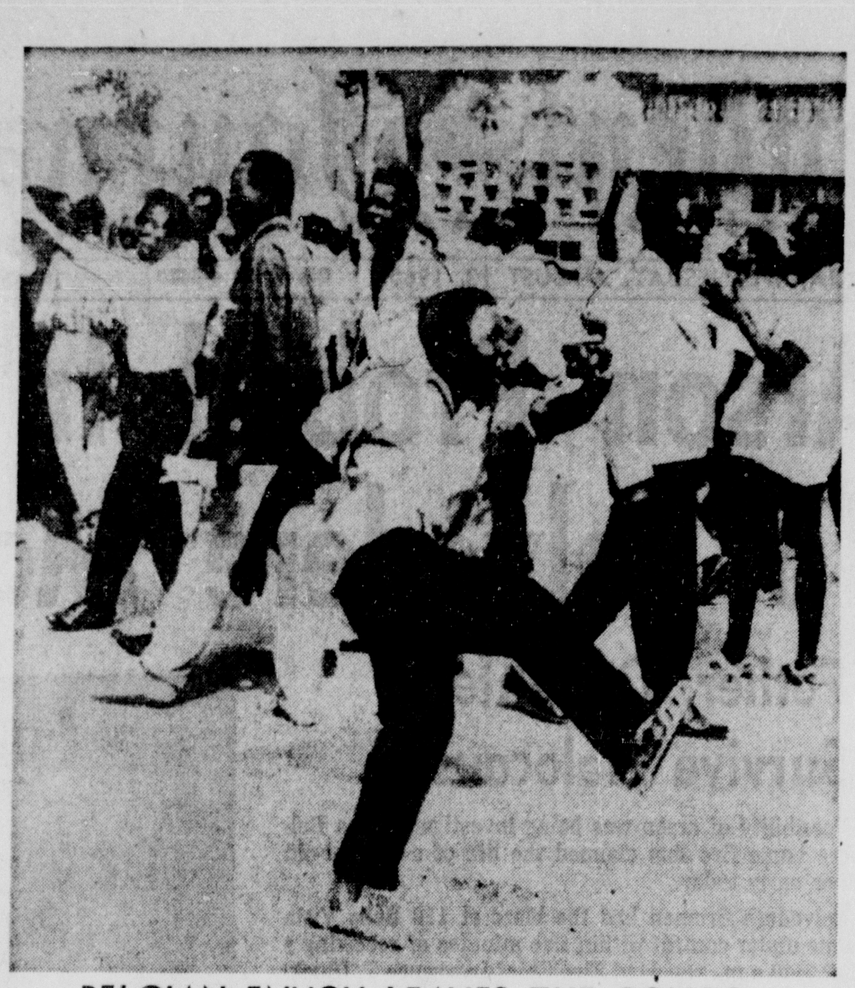

There was no immediate official response to the archbishop's threat. A well informed church source said the churches actually would not be closed today.

The demonstration outside the cathedral was the third since July 17, when anti-communism was manifested publicly at a church service in the cathedral.

GANG ASSEMBLES

A gang of youths assembled outside the building during a high Mass in honor of Cuban priests. Eyewitnesses said the youths—some armed with steel bars and wooden clubs—shouted "down with the pope" and "down with priests" and struck several worshippers as they left the cathedral.

Rev. Eligio Sardinas, chaplain of Castro's revolutionary army, intervened and managed to break up the jeering crowd. But the youths returned to the cathedral square two hours later, shouting anti-church and anti-American slogans. Police shot into the air to break up the demonstration.

BELGIAN ENVOY LEAVES THE CONGO

Congolese natives dance in the street as Belgian Ambassador Jean Van den Bosch, expelled from the new republic, emerged from his embassy building in Leopoldville yesterday. Arriving in France, en route to Brussels, he declined comment, saying, "I have left my colleagues behind me and I don't want to make their task more difficult." He was accused by Premier Patrice Lumumba's government of fomenting unrest and seeking to break up the new nation. (AP Wirephoto)

Military Needs Governing Spending Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense officials say the amount of money they have "available for future requirements" — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson calls it "mpounded"—shifts with military needs.

They confirmed Johnson's estimate yesterday that the current amount is about 521 million dollars of the 40-billion-dollar total Congress voted. But a month earlier it was more than a billion dollars, they said, and it shifts with changing decisions on military spending.

Johnson, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, questioned whether Congress should try to vote more money, and whether it would be spent even if it were appropriated.

Johnson cited figures he had obtained from Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. after President Eisenhower on Monday had outlined to Congress steps taken and proposed to increase the nation's military readiness.

Pentagon budget officers said the actions Eisenhower mentioned would cost an added half-billion dollars, and said total defense spending for the year may reach a peacetime record of 41½ billion dollars.

Despite the millions of "available" funds, they said, extra money may have to be sought early next year for other purposes.

U-2 Pilot's Wife Not Surprised At 'Plea Of Guilty'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Francis Gary Powers was described today as not surprised by Soviet claims that her U-2 pilot husband had "pleaded guilty to the essence of the charge" of spying on the Soviet Union.

"She reacted the same as all of us—such a claim was more or less expected," a Virginia attorney said.

Mrs. Powers' reaction was reported by Alex W. Parker, of Richmond, one of the attorneys named by the Virginia Bar Assn. to help defend Powers when he goes on trial in Moscow Aug. 17 on espionage charges. Powers' plane was downed over the Soviet Union May 1.

The Soviet news agency Tass Tuesday distributed the text of an indictment quoting the pilot as saying he had in effect pleaded guilty to flying over Soviet territory "with the aim of collecting intelligence information about the Soviet Union."

Space Folks' Choice

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Gabriel Green, 35, self-styled choice of the "space people," declared his candidacy for the presidency yesterday.

Green, president of the Amalgamated Flying Saucer Clubs of America, told a press conference his campaign would be based on his system of "prior choice economics" which he explained (?) thus:

"Everything is or should be the sum total of all that has gone before."

Demos Hoping For Legislation To Help Aged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders put a hurry-up tag today on major legislation for which they hope to claim credit in the presidential campaign.

Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas passed the word he wants some committee action this week on a bill to provide medical care for the elderly. A meeting of the Senate Finance Committee, which is considering the measure, was called for today.

WAGE MEASURE

Johnson already has on tap for Senate consideration a measure to raise the minimum wage from $1 to $1.25 an hour and to add from three to five million workers to those now covered by it.

The road to action on these politically potent proposals was cleared when Johnson, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, rallied party members yesterday to scuttle an Eisenhower administration civil rights bill that threatened to provoke a time-killing filibuster.

The bill was shelved by a 54-28 vote that followed party lines.

MINORITY VOTERS

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois protested he had no political motives in mind in offering the measure. But Democrats denounced it as "political byplay" calculated to demonstrate their party is split on an issue rated highly important to strategically placed minority voters.

The messure would have provided staturoy authority for a presidential commission to supervise fair employment on government contracts and would have authorized federal aid for desegregating school districts.

7,000-Mile ICBM Flight Over Ocean Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force has fired its Atlas missile over a 7,000-mile course and has taken over three more operational launching positions for the big intercontinental range missile.

The Atlas was launched yesterday in another demonstration of the rocket's accuracy and range versatility. The target was between the normal Atlas range of 6,325 miles and the record 9,000 miles covered by one of the missiles last May.

The test, termed successful by officials, was one of several planned over various ranges. Another Atlas is being groomed for an 8,000-mile flight. Scientists also want to check the performance of the missile's nose cone, which is subjected to varied re-entry conditions over different ranges.

Strategic Air Command headquarters in Omaha announced three Atlas launching facilities at Warren Air Force Base, Wyo., have been turned over to SAC's 564th Missile Squadron.

Several hours after the Atlas launching, an erroneous signal caused the cape range safety officer to destroy a Redstone missile a minute after it was fired.

The slim Redstone lifted off on what appeared to be a smooth start to a 200-mile flight. But the Army announced later that "there was an apparent erroneous indication that the missile was off course, which caused the range safety officer to destroy it."

Project officials reported the missile was performing perfectly when the safety officer pushed the destruct button.

Couple Seeking License Fee Back

Sorrow of a Woodaere couple over the death of a beloved dog was heightened by the fact that the animal was killed the same day a dog license had been bought, the Marin County Board of Supervisors learned yesterday.

Therefore, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Giddings, who said they'd previously paid for 13 years of licensing of their now deceased dog Sparky, want the latest $3 back, according to a letter read to the board.

The request was referred to the county counsel.

More Workers Quit Orchards In Labor Row

OROVILLE (AP) — About 100 domestic workers walked off five more orchards in Northern California yesterday as the demand for higher wages spread.

Union organizers extended their picketing and scheduled a rally.

Forty pickers left the Rogers ranch on Highway 99E three miles south of Gridley. They were demanding an increase from 12 to 14 cents a box.

PEACH RANCH

Eighteen pickers left the Rajinger Singh peach ranch in Butte County, where unusual weather has caused three-year-old trees to bear. The pickers walked off when Singh refused to pay 17 cents a box. The Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee sent two pickets to the Singh ranch.

Pickers also left the Serg Solari ranch at Hughson, and the Harry Little and William Ramos orchards in Empire, all near Modesto. The maximum demand was for 20 cents a box.

INJUNCTION ISSUED

In other developments, a Superior Court judge in Oroville issued a preliminary injunction limiting AWOC picketing at the Tom Bowers peach ranch near Gridley to five pickets at a time.

The preliminary injunction granted by Superior Court Judge A. B. Ware will continue in effect pending the trial of issues involving Bowers' 300-acre fruit ranch.

Organizer DeWitt Tannehill is awaiting appearances in court on charges of taking part in an Aug. 1 riot at the ranch during which ladders of pickers were knocked over. After the disorder, the Mexican government withdrew its nationals from the ranch.

RALLY PLANNED

Tannehill announced the AWOC will stage a Marysville rally tomorrow to discuss problems of the peach harvest. Main speaker will be Lewis Krainock, of Stockton, public information director for the union.

In San Francisco, a vice president of DiGiorgio Fruit Corp. said the AWOC had falsely claimed a union victory at the Dantoni and New England pear orchards near Marysville.

"We have never negotiated with any representatives of the AWOC because this group does not represent our workers," said Bruce W. Sanborn.

POSH RESTAURANT FOR SAN RAFAEL—This architect's drawing of proposed Dominic's Restaurant on Francisco Boulevard and the San Rafael Canal, with accompanying plans, won unanimous approval of the San Rafael Planning Commission last night. Contractor William H. McDevitt said the building, to be owned by him and Herbert A. Crocker, will cost $340,000 and will be the largest restaurant in Marin.

ZONING QUESTION

Touchy Problem Touched, Dropped

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night grappled with the touchy East San Rafael zoning question, then dropped it.

The next step in the two-year debate is up to the city council, due to take up the matter at its meeting next Monday night.

No action was taken on the report of City Planner Donald R. Newmark last night.

His preliminary ideas included:

1. Developing Rafael Street as an access road to the people living in the north and making it a buffer zone between residential and industrial areas by erecting an eight-foot fence and landscaped strip along the south side of the street.

2. Spanning Bellam Boulevard across the canal by bridge or tube (a million-dollar job) and connecting the southern end of the street with the San Quentin Wye.

3. Encouraging a variety of building types in the area so that if a developer would donate open space for a city park the city might allow smaller lot spaces.

Newmark said these were his observations following the planning commissions' recommendation to rezone a 10-acre triangle from planned industrial to multiple family. The triangle is bordered by Rafael Street, the canal and Bellam Boulevard.

A more comprehensive overal plan for the area should be made by the city planner, most commissioners agreed. But they held off launching it until after Monday night's city council meeting.

Commissioner Charles Hendrickson suggested Newmark should be given a year to find out what the property owners want and conclude a study.

"But what happens to East San Rafael while we wait for the completion of this study?" snapped L. E. Weisenburg Jr. of 194 Mill Street, East San Rafael developer.

His question went unanswered as commissioners suspended further action pending the city council's decision.

The planning commission directed Spero Spiliotis to submit drawings on his request to move 10 residential units from 863 Francisco Boulevard to the northeast side of Front Street. Permission to transport a quonset hut was denied.

Boat Repair Shop Plans Approved

San Rafael planning commissioners balked last night at approving another steel-fronted building beside the San Rafael Canal.

They granted W.C. Garvie permission to build a corrugated steel boat repair shop at the foot of Bay Street but restricted the design.

But by a vote of 3 to 2, they demanded an outside decorations other than plain steel to improve the appearance. Commissioners Orlando Conti and Charles Hendrickson dissented. They later declared it was idiotic to control this type of structure "when we can't control shabby boat houses."

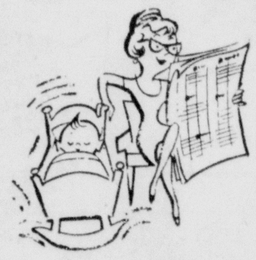

Commissioners Pat Hetherton, Gene O'Connor and Mae Zappetini voted yes. Commissioner Nicholas Dollwet abstained.

Three other building plans were given architectural approval by the commissioners last night. They are for:

A 26,000-square-foot Montgomery Ward and Co. warehouse to be built on the east side of Tiburon Street between Francisco Boulevard and Belvedere Street.

A concrete tilt-up candle-making factory on Dubois Street.

The Filbert Shirley Printing Shop, a concrete tilt-up with aluminum front, adjacent to the candle works.

Alaska Voting Favors Keeping Present Capital

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) — With well over half the votes counted in the Alaska primary election, residents of the 49th state appeared to have voted in favor of retaining the state capital in the colorful gold mining town of Juneau.

Unofficial tabulations complete from 40 key areas in the state revealed that Alaskans voted down an initiative to move the capital by more than 4,000 votes.

The initiative, on the ballot in Alaska's first election since statehood, would have moved the capital to some 570 miles northwest in the vicinity of Anchorage.

The Democrats swept across the Alaska primary ballot with an overwhelming majority. Incumbent Sen. E. L. Bartlett (D. Alaska), unopposed for his party's nomination, garnered 14,578 votes out of a total of 20,340 cast.

ICE CREAM CART DERAILS DASHING DOG

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — It was the dog-gondest thing that happened to Lester Strain.

Strain was driving along in his motorized ice cream cart yesterday when a big dog came dashing toward him. The dog applied brakes too late, and wound up stuck firmly under the cart.

Strain called his office, and they dispatched a serviceman who jacked the cart up off the dog.

Hospital Board Meets In Secret

Directors of Marin General Hospital met last night in executive session to discuss how the hospital's recently adopted employees' retirement age of 65 should be applied to seven over-65 hospital employees, reported S. Ames Pence, hospital administrator.

No decision was reached. The problem was referred to a committee composed of Pence and directors Herman Hale and Charles Rowe.

Swank Eatery Plans Passed In San Rafael

Architect's plans for a new $340,000 waterfront restaurant between Francisco Boulevard and the San Rafael Canal near the turning basin to be known as Dominic's were unanimously approved by the San Rafael Planning Commission last night.

Owner Herbert A. Crocker and William H. McDevitt said Dominic's will be the largest restaurant in Marin County.

The modern one-story structure will contain a banquet hall accommodating 500 persons, a dining room seating 100 and a cocktail lounge holding 46.

Berthing facilities will be available for yachtsmen.

Construction is expected to begin by Aug. 24, McDevitt said. The restaurant is scheduled to open to the public on April 1, 1961.

Planned facilities include a 157-space parking lot, outdoor dining area and open-air cocktail terrace. The banquet room will feature a beam-vaulted ceiling.

Ike Says Congress Session More Important Than Votes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today it is a little bit silly for Democrats to contend it would take many weeks to enact the legislative program he has proposed.

Eisenhower told his first news conference since July 6 that he thinks it is more important to the country for Congress to stay on the job and pass legislation than to go home and campaign.

One cannot simply say, Eisenhower continued, that politicking is more important than the nation's business.

In a wide-ranging discussion of domestic and foreign issues, the president said among other things there are no signs now of any economic recession or depression for the country.

In the international field, the president said he had given no thought to having any personal conference with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev if the latter comes to this country for the United Nations disarmament conference or the United Nations General Assembly session.

Eisenhower said, however, that if he concluded any useful purpose could be served he would not hesitate to meet with the Soviet premier.

Khrushchev hinted in an interview published in Pravda, the Soviet Communist newspaper, yesterday that he might visit the U.N.

In the domestic field, Eisenhower said that when he invites congressional members of both parties to sit down with him soon he has no intention of lecturing them on how they should carry out their duties.

He said he would explain the international situation as he sees it and report on some changes he has made in his own program.

Eisenhower struck back at Democratic criticism of his defense program and the 21-point legislative proposals he sent the Senate when it reconvened Monday.

Specifically, Eisenhower said that he has not frozen 621 million dollars in defense funds voted by Congress as charged by Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic vice presidential nominee and Senate party leader.

There is no reason to say, Eisenhower declared vigorously, that these funds will not be spent.

Eisenhower was asked whether his recent moves to strengthen the U.S. military position represented an about face on his part.

The president replied with some vehemence that they did not. He said he wasn't influenced by anybody except his advisers and his own judgment.

Subdivider Told To Provide Park

Too many subdividers are failing to provide park facilities, a representative of the San Rafael Park and Recreation Department told the city's planning commission last night.

Heeding the call, the planning commission demanded six acres for a park site before approving the tentative map for the 73-homesite Glenwood Four subdivision.

Joseph Rodota, recreation director, said the Glenwood subdivision has no public park areas except a school site.

The commissioners unanimously approved the map with the exception of five homesites which may be used by the city for a park.

A six-month time limit was set for the city to start park proceedings, however. Otherwise the parcels will revert to the owners.

A revised tentative map for the 30-lot Dominican Heights Unit Two subdivision was approved pending soil tests and satisfaction of the city engineer last night.

The subdivision, which fronts on Glen Park Avenue near Dominican convent, had been revised to eliminate a potentially dangerous intersection.

Planning commissioners also approved the final map for the Rafael Racquet Club Estates, a 50-homesite subdivision off Fifth Avenue at the west end of the city.

LADY'S LUCK AT POKER GETS FLUSHED

WEST HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Easy come, easy go.

Miss Yetta Kahn won $200 last night playing cards in Gardena where poker is legal. She lost it a few hours later to an armed bandit in West Hollywood where armed robbery isn't.

Legal, that is.

Miss Kahn told sheriff's deputies the gunman was waiting for her in the darkened garage when she returned home and ordered her to "take the money out and turn it over."

He held the winning hand.

Meeting Postponed

Directors of the Ross Valley Sanitary District lacked a quorum last night, and no meeting was held. Next regular meeting is scheduled for Sept. 7 at 8 p.m. at the district office, 11 Library Place, San Anselmo.

Apartment Zone Sessions Scheduled

Public hearing dates were set for three areas being considered for rezoning for apartments by the San Rafael Planning Commission last night.

Second hearings were scheduled for Aug. 23 at 7:30 p.m. on rezoning from single family to duplex residential of four properties on Reservoir Road, one on Mira Mar Avenue and three on Woods Street.

Aug. 23 and Sept. 13 will be the public hearing dates for a request to change 124 Ross Street from duplex to multiple family residential.

Architectural approval of the Harbor House Apartments on Canal Street between Medway Road and Hoag Street was put over until Aug. 23 because the applicant was not present.

$158,000 To Be Spent For Pool At School

The San Rafael Board of Education last night decided to sell $200,000 worth of high school district bonds to finance construction of the swimming pool at Terra Linda High School.

The pool is part of the first stage of expansion of the school, and is estimated to cost $158,000. Bids will be called for in October.

Bonds to finance the rest of this first expansion stage — probably about $1,100,000 for a second academic wing, shop addition to the music building and library—will be sold in the spring, the board agreed. Bids will be called for in February.

The $200,000 worth of bonds is to be sold on or before Oct. 15.

Architect Carl Gromme presented this estimate of costs to the board: second academic building and library, $715,517; music, drama and speech unit, $100,485; shop building; $69,600; arcade (between the two classroom wings at the north end), $30,000; covered walks, $23,520; pool, $158,000; fees and inspection, $105,000 and contingencies, $47,878, for a total of $1,250,000.

The board heard a letter from E. Warren McGuire, assistant county counsel, concerning the district's occupancy of Terra Linda High before completion and acceptance of the buildings.

McGuire noted that the district has the right to occupy the buildings before acceptance, as provided in the contract. He suggested that the board reach an understanding with the contractor on any of the factors which, by reason of the occupancy, may affect his scheduled completion date of Oct. 18.

The board discussed the possibility of paying the contractor a bonus for each day he finishes earlier than the scheduled completion date. Supt. Frank L. Lucas is to check on the right of the board to do this. The contract provides a penalty for late completion of the buildings.

Board members Rex Silvernale, reporting on a meeting with the contractor, Ray Johnson, said the entire lower floor of the academic building would have first priority for completion to the point where all the classrooms could be used by the opening of school.

The contractor indicated all the buildings would be ready for use by opening day, except the upper floor of the academic building. The total job is to be completed on or before Oct. 18.

Owner Of Chimp Draws Fine For Drunken Driving

The owner of Ziggy the chimpanzee was sentenced to six months probation, lost her driving privileges for the same term and was fined $263 for drunken driving yesterday.

Eoline F. Brashears, 42, of Vallejo, pleaded guilty before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. in Marin County Municipal Court.

She was arrested Sunday on Highway 101 near Atherton Avenue in Novato.

Her 3-year-old chimpanzee, dressed in a red, silver and blue outfit (and cold sober) was lodged in the Marin County Humane Society Shelter overnight.

Trailers May Mean Lights Need Adjusting

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Highway Patrol is reminding motorists that trailers on their cars can pull the rear end down, thus raising headlights to an illegal position.

"This problem can be eliminated by having the lights aligned while the vehicle is loaded and ready for the vacation trip," said Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden.

COOLING OFF WILL COST EMPLOYEE A COOL $40

A Typist-clerk in the investigative division of the Marin County district attorney's office was pretty hot one day last April.

But action of the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday gave even more reason for heat.

The employee rushed out and spent about $40 with a San Rafael drugstore to acquire an air cooler, not pausing to get authorization.

After investigation of a request from the district attorney's office for reimbursement, County Administrator D. A. Jensen "concluded reluctantly that the proposal runs contrary to the spirit and intent, if not the letter" of government code — and the board backed him up.

So someone in the district attorney's office is out $40.

County, Stinson To Seek Pact On Flood Zone

Stinson Beach residents soon will hold a meeting with county officials, and after months of delay, attempt to reach agreement as to whether Stinson Beach Flood Control Zone No. 5 should be formed.

This was decided yesterday at a meeting of the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

When the matter was continued last month, no Stinson Beach resident was present. On hand yesterday were: Mrs. Ada Marble, secretary of the Progressive Club, and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Eustis, respectively president of the Community Center and secretary of the school board.

OPPOSITION WITHDRAWN

They took a position of opposition, then withdrew their protests pending further study which they promised to make a community project.

James H. Fuller, organizer of a petition for a flood-control zone, wrote the board he took a pessimistic view of flood prospects because diversion of a stream into the lagoon, and suggested that it should either be "corrected back" to an ocean exit or be dredged.

"More problems are coming up when and if we get the new road," commented Eustis, referring to the proposed shoreline highway expansion.

BRIGHAM'S VIEWS

Marvin W. Brigham, public works director, said, "When you have a heavy rain that channel will fill and water will run down the street. You'd be smart to be prepared for a complete blocking. If you form a zone you can keep the water flowing down the channel though it won't save some houses from flooding."

The board named Brigham and Leland H. Jordan, county counsel, to appear before the Stinson Beach Progressive Club on call and clear up engineering and legal aspects.

REJECTED — Mrs. Irving Rabinowitz, 28, a bride of three weeks, was ordered from traffic court in New York, and given a lecture for wearing tight slacks to court. Her husband later came in and paid the fine. (AP Wirephoto)

Private School's Horses Out Again

For the second time this week, residents of Mariner's Cove and Marin Estate in Corte Madera discovered two horses nibbling at their lawns in the early morning today, Corte Madera police reported.

The two errant animals were rounded up by Roy Yates of the Marin Country Day School, whence they had come.

Utilities District Watching Pennies

The Inverness Public Utilities District demonstrated at last night's meeting that it is watching every penny of the public's money.

"Besides the routine payment of bills," reported commissioner Richard M. Cantwell, "an investigation was launched to determine who made two 30-cent, long-distance phone calls "on the district's phone without accounting for them."

ROYAL BALLET VISITS SAN RAFAEL DANES

Income Tax Evaders Get Light Terms

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A San Geronimo motel operator and his wife were given light sentences today for income tax violations.

Judge Louis E. Goodman of U.S. District Court sentenced William Joseph Rossi, 53, to three months in prison and a $1,000 fine for misrepresenting his income tax situation in 1957 and 1958 to an Internal Revenue Service officer.

Rossi was placed on probation for two years and his sentence was stayed until Aug. 26 so that he may attend to business matters.

His wife, Theresa, 35, was given a suspended two-year sentence and placed on probation on one count of conspiring to help her husband evade income taxes.

The Rossis' attorney, Berwyn M. Rice of San Rafael, told Judge Goodman that Rossi "hit the panic button" when internal revenue agents questioned him. "Having told one lie, he tried to cover it up with another. That's all there is to it," Rice said.

Rossi was charged with telling tax agents that certain money in his accounts did not represent taxable income, but had been borrowed from an old friend, Nick Vallianios, and that he still owed Vallianios the money. He admitted in court today that while this had been true at one time, it was not true at the time the agent questioned him.

Berkeley Teachers Due 8% Raises

BERKELEY (AP)—The Berkeley School Board yesterday approved an 8 per cent salary increase for teachers and school administrators.

The board said the raise would be paid for by eliminating the jobs of 29 teachers and nine administrators.

had flown out, after an uneventful visit to the Baltic states, to serve as the ambassador's escort officer.

Nearing the end of his tour of duty, he had planned to fly to Wiesbaden Thursday to greet his successor as air attache here.

Instead, he and his wife will leave permanently Monday. They will fly aboard a Scandinavian airliner to Copenhagen. Their home is in Palo Alto.

Embassy officials had expected action to be taken against one of their service attaches in retaliation for the recent expulsion from Washington of a Soviet officer charged with hiring a private plane in order to photograph military objects.

The most serious charge against Kirton was that he "organized an intelligence apparatus" shortly after arriving in the Soviet Union.

He also was said to have "carried out a great number of intelligence trips throughout the Soviet Union."

the resolution passed by the Security Council yesterday authorizing the entry of the U.N. force into the mineral-rich secessionist province of Katanga and calling for the immediate withdrawal of all Belgian forces from the entire country.

In Elisabethville, Premier Moise Tshombe of Katanga said he had cabled Hammarskjold that he is ready to begin talks over the question of admitting U.N. troops into his province.

Lumumba's government had threatened a general mobilization for invasion of Katanga unless the U.N. force entered that secessionist province by the weekend.

Tshombe, who blocked a scheduled entry of the U.N. force last Saturday with a threat of war, backed down yesterday and offered conditions for them to enter the territory.

MMWD Sells Bond Issue

Marin Municipal Water District's three-million-dollar bond issue was sold today to Halsey Stuart and Associates of San Francisco at an interest rate of 3.3325 per cent.

Six combinations of financial firms bid for the issue, reported B. J. Brusatori, district secretary. He noted that the interest rate of the successful bidder was lower than that for which an 11-million-dollar Los Angeles issue of water bonds went last week.

U-Turn Driver Hurt In Wreck

A San Francisco motorcyclist who turned across the course of a Sausalito driver on Highway 101 Monday night suffered cuts and bruises and got a California Highway Patrol citation.

August Wilford Girard Jr. was making a U-turn at the Novato Airport entrance at 8:40 p.m. when his motorcycle was hit by a northbound imported sports car driven by William Matson Roth of 100 Spencer Avenue, Sausalito, chairman of the board of Pacific National Life Insurance Co. in San Francisco.

Roth drove Girard to Marin General Hospital where he received emergency treatment. The California Highway Patrol cited him on a charge of turning from a right lane when there was an available lane at the left.

Turncoat On Russ TV

MOSCOW —Joseph Dutkanicz, a U.S. soldier who defected to the Soviet Union two months ago, appeared on Moscow television last night to denounce "American intelligence warmongering operations."

The ex-GI, who disappeared from his post at Darmstadt, Germany, June 14, told his Russian audience that his former American soldier buddies often had expressed "disgust and indignation" at U.S. espionage activities.

King's Troops Mobilized In Laos Revolt

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Royalist troops were reported marching on the administrative capital of Vientiane in Laos today to put down a leftist revolt against the pro-western government.

The counter-attack was being mobilized from Luang Prabang, official residence of King Savang Vatthana, about 140 miles to the north of Vientiane, the reports said.

Prime Minister Tiao Somsanith was believed to be in Luang Prabang helping direct the operation, although most members of his cabinet fell into the hands of the rebels and now are under arrest.

Thus, with the chief of government still at large and the king apparently against them, it was doubtful the rebels had gained effective political control, as claimed in their first communiques yesterday.

Leader of the revolt was identified as a Capt. Vong Le or Kong Lae, commander of a paratroop batallion.

meet. In seconding her motion, Gnoss spoke briefly.

"I was brought up the hard way myself and feel we should do anything we can to help," said Gnoss. "We are trying to cut taxes but in my heart I can't sit here and say no. I feel that Short-Doyle can give some help and that we should try it a year."

Previous discussion ranged widely and included stress on "bargain" nature of the state repayment, lists of many organizations supporting participation, but also disagreement that state funds are "free" and suggested that the matter be put to the voters.

Dr. William G. Neal, member of the advisory board and assistant professor of pediatrics at the University of California Medical School, termed it "ridiculous to say there is no need; there is a fantastic need." He declared that many persons cannot qualify to get help under the staff of Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr., county medical director.

Dr. Dufficy, admitting that his $11,000 spent for treatment was a "short term" type of program, said his office program had handled only 89 cases last year and that he felt this was the extent of need or he would have asked more money for the current year.

and the cigarette set fire to the bed. However, he called in Charles T. Daniels, arson investigator for the sheriff's office.

"We are not taking anything for granted," said Keaton.

Two pumper trucks, a rescue unit and a jeep were used to battle the blaze. Although there is much brush and trees around the two-story hillside home, the blaze did not spread beyond the house itself.

The Halls have been Marin residents about five years, and have been socially prominent in both Sausalito and Belvedere. Hall formerly built a line of pleasure boats at Sausalito, then went into the home building business.

Mrs. Hall's parents reside in Mariposa.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Russell and Gooch of Mill Valley.

Chief Mersereau praised his volunteers for their prompt 100 per cent turnout and Belvedere police for keeping roads clear and crowds away while they fought the fire.

Senate Gets GOP Civil Rights Plank

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to carry out the Republican Party's platform pledges on civil rights was introduced today amid indications that parts of it may be offered as riders to the minimum wage or other measures.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R.-N.Y.), chief sponsor of the four-part civil rights bill, told newsmen no firm decision had yet been reached on the course to be pursued in trying to get action on the legislation.

But he said one possibility is that some of its provisions may be offered as amendments to other bills, such as the bill of Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, to boost the minimum wage from $1 to $1.25 an hour.

while they looted the place of $15,000.

The following night, Oakland police surrounded the Fairfax apartment of Hecht. As they entered, Hecht appeared with two guns. Police killed him on the spot.

Then they went to Trout's home in Fairfax and arrested him and his wife, Joanne.

Trout was found guilty in Alameda County Superior Court in June, 1958, and sentenced to one year to life in prison. He is serving his term at Vacaville.

He had confessed his part in the robbery, relating that he became acquainted with Hecht while the latter was one of the prisoners under his guard at San Quentin, and that they planned the crime after Hecht's release. But he repudiated the confession, claiming police coerced it from him by holding his wife so she could not return to their four children.

The court of appeals last year reversed the conviction on the basis that the coerced confession was inadmissible evidence. The supreme court yesterday upheld the reversal.

Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson, speaking for the 5-2 majority, said:

"We are satisfied that the confession resulted from improper pressure by the police and should not have been received as evidence. . . . The reasonable conclusion to be drawn from the undisputed facts is that the police held Mrs. Trout in custody for the purpose of securing a confession from the defendant."

The court majority also rapped the trial judge, S. Victor Wagler, for telling the jury that Trout's admission should be considered as evidence whether or not it was voluntarily made.

The dissenting justices, B. Rey Schauer and Marshall McComb, argued there was no evidence that the confession was forced and that the propriety of holding Mrs. Trout was no concern of the court.

SURVIVOR IN FATAL WRECK

"Daddy will have to get a new car." These were the first words spoken by Kim Marie Harris, 4, yesterday when she was pulled from the wreckage of her parents' pickup truck after it struck a car head-on 18 miles from Bismark, N.D. The vacationing family was returning to their home at Westminster, Orange County, from Sheyenne, N.D. Kim's father, Leonard, and mother, Patricia, and the other driver, Vernon Schauer, were killed. Kim wasn't told at first that she was an orphan. (AP Wirephoto)

Novato Mayor Asserts City Would Not Sell Clubhouse

The Novato City Council has no plans for selling the Community Club house and would allow joint city-club use of the building, councilmen assured club members last night.

In answer to a letter from Mrs. Robert Merritt, a club director who presided at the member-called club meeting Monday, Mayor Wayne Womack said:

"I have never intended that the building be destroyed if the city had control."

At the meeting Monday, 21 of the 200 club members voted to give the club house to the city by Sept. 20, if the club could use it and if it were maintained by a city-club commission. Members voting Monday say the decision, in the form of bylaw amendments, is binding. Others say it is not binding. Another meeting is scheduled for Aug. 22 to vote or more amendments.

"There's been a rumor floating around that Wayne (Womack) and I have said we'd sell it the minute the city got its hands on it," Councilman Everett Pozzi commented. This is not true, he declared.

"I'd be more than happy to share it with them as long as we possibly could," he said.

But before the city might commit itself to take the club house, if offered, an estimate should be made of the cost of upkeep and renovation of the building, Councilman John Angeloni cautioned. He noted the poor rating given the building in a recent fire department report.

Councilman M. E. (Babe) Silva refrained from comment. Councilman Charles R. Johnson was absent.

"All of the arguments, pro and con, about giving the club house to the city seem to stem from the fear that the council will sell the building or tear it down or refuse to share it with the community club," Mrs. Merritt wrote in her letter.

"If you can give assurance that the club house may be used by all, we feel the members will be satisfied."

PARK PRICE SILENCES CITY COUNCIL

Novato city fathers have been looking for a way to start a park program for the city which now has no land set aside for recreation.

As the final item at last night's council meeting, councilman Everett Pozzi said he'd been asked to tell his colleagues that five acres of land at Feliz Lane and Ferris Drive was available for a park—at $6,000 an acre.

There were moments of dead silence as councilmen pondered the cost and the tight budget still being considered.

"I move we adjourn," said Councilman M. E. (Babe) Silva.

License Fee Setup Mulled In Novato

License fees from Novato businesses may bring the city about $6,000 yearly, city councilmen voted last night in preliminary discussion of how to set up a license system.

After discussing a possible $25 minimum license fee and hearing comment on various licensing methods, councilmen continued the discussion to next Tuesday's meeting.

They noted that two primary licensing methods are used:

1. Fees are assessed according to business categories, such as retail, professional and service, brokers and manufacturers, contractors.

2. Fees also are assessed according to a schedule of gross profits and gross receipts:

In other business last night, the council:

1. Approved social security coverage for certain city employees.

2. Tentatively approved a lease, for no money, of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad station for use as a police station. The county now leases the building for $1 yearly for use as a sheriff's substation.

3. Noted that a protest was being made to the California Division of Highways after the state disallowed 10 city streets for use of state gas tax rebate funds on repair and maintenance.

4. Approved the final map of St. Francis Heights subdivision, unit one.

M. J. Lamperti of San Rafael, professional engineer and a 50-year resident of Marin County, was named Marin director of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

He is owner of the North Bay Electric Co. of San Rafael.

Six candidates had applied. John C. Painter of 349 Forbes Avenue, San Rafael, had appeared only yesterday morning. Retired, he cited 22 years of engineering service for the City of San Francisco.

OVERPASS FRAMEWORK APPEARS OVERNIGHT

Between dusk last night and dawn today, the framework for the Terra Linda interchange overpass on Highway 101 took form. Huge steel girders were hauled to the location yesterday, and erected during the night while traffic on the highway was light. This scene greeted commuting motorists this morning.

City Use Of School Basement Favored

San Rafael Board of Education members last night looked with favor on a proposal by City Manager Dan E. Andersen to move three city departments to the basement of E Street School.

The departments are planning and public works, now located in a small building behind city hall, and the building department, on the main floor of city hall.

Andersen said the city departments were "sorely cramped." The move to E Street School would be "strictly temporary . . . until we can get something done on a new city hall," he said.

He estimated it would cost $6,000 for the building department to convert the basement rooms of the school for city use.

Andersen hinted that when the board was ready to dispose of the E Street property, some of the council members were interested in talking about acquiring it for the city.

The board has plans to abandon the school in two years and sell the property. In September, six of the classes formerly at E Street will be moved to Coleman School. A maximum of five classrooms will still be in use there, depending on the number the county wants to use for mentally retarded children.

The basement rooms were used as offices by the music, speech, and art supervisors and the elementary district librarian. If the board agrees to let the city use the basement, these offices would be moved to the vacated classrooms upstairs.

Andersen said the city would improve the parking lot at the school. He and Supt. Frank L. Lucas will get together to work out costs and lease charges.

Hub City Hall Remodeling Plans Unveiled

Architect's plans for remodeling the interior of the San Anselmo City Hall were unveiled last night before the San Anselmo City Council.

They showed office space for a new public works director, a new police locker room, a new office for the fire chief, and a small structure at the rear of the city hall for fire department hoses.

Remodeling would cost from $20,000 to $25,000, estimated Roger F. Hooper Jr. of Ross, partner in the firm of Malone and Hooper, architects.

The council postponed discussion of the plans until an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday when Mayor William Franchini will have returned from his vacation. He was absent from last night's meeting.

The council postponed discussion of the plans until an adjourned meeting at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday when Mayor William Franchini will have returned from his vacation. He was absent from last night's meeting.

In other business last night, the council:

1. By resolution specified that city warrants carry two signatures: One would be that of mayor, vice mayor or city administrator and the other that of city clerk, controller or treasurer. Warrants approved last night totalled $36,599.

2. Set Sept. 13 as the date for examinations for two new firemen, two fire captains and two fire department lieutenants. Starting salary for firemen is $415 a month. The council postponed decision until next Tuesday on whether the exam for captain and lieutenant should be open only to men now in the San Anselmo Fire Department.

3. Voted 3-1 to have City Administrator Douglas Flautt make the decision whether Fire Chief Nello Marcucci could attend the intermountain fire chief's convention in Las Vegas Sept. 28-30 at city expense. Councilman Arthur W. Smith dissented, saying he thought "any expenditure of public funds should be passed on by the council." Councilman Robert E. Rouse said since funds were provided in the budget, that an administrative decision was needed. No one objected to the fire chief's attending the convention.

4. Appointed Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani as assistant civil defense director under Flautt, who succeeds ex-councilman Carmel Booth as civil defense head.

5. Referred a new zoning ordinance back to the planning commission for another public hearing. City Atty. John G. Buresh recommended the step since the planning commission adopted changes in the ordinance after it had held a public hearing. The ordinance enumerates eight basic zoning classifications and many combinations of them, replacing the present five zonings.

6. Heard a complaint from John Holm of 16 Fairview Court that he had suffered numerous delays in trying to find out what guarantee he must provide the city that city streets would not be damaged in connection with his enlarging a patio behind his hillside house. He was required to supply a $150 bond which cost him $20 to $40, he said, instead of being allowed simply to deposit $150 cash with the city.

SENATOR SAYS MISSING PAIR WITH REDS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) said today that two missing employees of the National Security Council "now are behind the Iron Curtain" and may be able to aid Soviet intelligence forces.

"There is no doubt in my mind that they are now behind the Iron Curtain," Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, told a reporter. "An intensive investigation still is under way."

Russell has been in close contact with top Defense Department officials who have been investigating the disappearance of Bernon F. Mitchell, 31, of Eureka, once a resident of San Rafael, and William H. Martin, 29, of Ellensburg, Wash. They were mathematicians for the top-secret security agency.

Trash Baskets Accepted By Hub Council

Ten wire trash baskets to be placed at strategic spots in downtown San Anselmo were accepted last night by the San Anselmo City Council.

The baskets were donated by the San Anselmo Rotary Club and will be emptied without charge by the San Anselmo Garbage Disposal Co.

The council also indicated willingness to go along with a second chamber of commerce project: A proposed ordinance to regulate liquidation, fire, close-out and auction sales.

If the ordinance is patterned after one in effect in San Rafael, it would require a $100 permit good for 60 days, renewable for another 30 days with payment of $25. It would prohibit bringing in additional new merchandise

"There are very few businessmen who are legitimate businessmen who are not in favor of an ordinance like this one," declared Mozart Kaufman, chairman of the chamber's merchants committee.

Kaufman termed the ordinance a "preventive measure." He could recall no such sale having been held in San Anselmo.

Vice Mayor Carleton G. Little, presiding in the absence of Mayor William Franchini, turned the proposal over to city administrator Douglas Flautt and City Atty. John W. Buresh for their recommendations.

Board Accepts Paving Bids For Schools

The San Rafael Board of Education last night accepted the $2,561 low bid of Brown-Ely Co., San Rafael, for asphaltic concrete paving of the Coleman School yard, and the $870 low bid of the same firm for paving the driveway at Hartzell School.

It also accepted the $1,296 low bid of Ghilotfi Brothers of San Rafael, for paving at Santa Venetia School, subject to an "honest error" being claimed by the company. If the bid is an error, the next lowest, $2,412 from Piombo and Bresnan, San Rafael, will be accepted.

In other matters, the board:

1. Indicated it was agreeable to suggestions that the city develop additional recreational facilities on school properties. Supt. Frank L. Lucas and Recreational Director Joseph Rodota are to work out more details.

2. Agreed to notify to the county board of supervisors that it approves of the annexation of the San Quentin School District to San Rafael.

3. Appointed five teachers: Nancy Gressinger, physical education and mathematics; Clifford Georgison, mathematics teacher and acting department head of mathematics and physical science; Gary Dunn, half-time teacher and half time head counselor, all at Terra Linda High School; Mrs. Carol E. Goltz, English, San Rafael High, and Mrs. Sophia Marra, sixth grade teacher.

4. Appointed Calvin Matthies custodian at Terra Linda High.

STOLEN SAFE TURNS UP IN MARIN HILLS

A safe that was stolen from a San Francisco office Sunday by simply heaving it out the window has turned up in the Marin hills behind Terra Linda.

Mrs. Madeline A. Carpenter of 619 Tanbark Terrace, Terra Linda, out for a stroll with her two daughters, yesterday discovered a safe, its door removed, lying on the hillside. The door, bearing traces of blood, was about 50 feet away. Scattered about were $1.53 in change and two checks totaling $150.

Sheriff's officers identified the not-so-strong box as a 200-pound safe which was stolen Sunday from the Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco office of Jack Falvey, owner of the Giraffe Liquor Store and Hippo Hamburger Restaurant. Falvey told police the safe, with about $1,000 inside, was heaved out the window of his office by the thieves.

Mill Valley Planners Reject Parking Lot

James E. Egger was denied a use permit by the Mill Valley Planning Commission last night to put in a parking lot on his property adjoining the Egger & Son Nursery at 246 Sycamore Avenue.

The vote was 5-2, with chairman A. A. Hemmerling and commissioner Lew Tyrrell dissenting.

Denial automatically put aside a request for plan approval from Herbert H. Shapiro who, contingent on the use permit, planned to build an addition to Jolly Store behind the present store at 393 Miller Avenue. The parking lot would augment the needed space for parking for the Jolly Store addition.

Commissioner Robert Graver said the permit should be denied because "if we grant a use permit, we're in effect rezoning the property."

Tyrrell said the property on which the parking lot would be built adjoins a non-conforming nursery that will be there for a long time. He said Sycamore must be widened and that there is already an access from Egger's land to Sycamore.

George Martinez was unanimously denied a variance to permit construction of a five-unit apartment house at 10 Gardner Street.

Martinez asked for the variance so he might build to within 10 feet of the sidevard property line on West Blithedale Avenue.

The commission also:

1. Set for Tuesday at 8 p.m. a public hearing to consider land use of the marshland area.

2. Approved plans for the proposed addition to the municipal golf club pro shop with the provision that the architectural advisory committee be allowed to choose the color of the exterior paint.

3. Elected Tyrrell as vice chairman, replacing commissioner Claude Stroller.

4. Welcomed planning consultant Robert Cornish, hired to update the master plan, to the meeting. Cornish said he would give the commission an outline of how he proposes to go about updating the plan.

STOCKS TODAY

COMBINED AP & UPI

NEW YORK—Stocks stretched their current string of advances to five in a row today on a spurt of late buying.

Volume for the day was estimated at 2,700,000 shares, about the same as yesterday. Trading was quiet after the very slow morning pace was speeded up a bit.

A morning attempt at a rally failed to stir the list out of its recent extremely narrow range.

Apartments Near School Not Favored

The Mill Valley Planning Commission is not in favor of more apartments being built near Tamalpais High School at the entrance to the city.

It recommended unanimously last night to the Marin County Planning Commission that a request to rezone property adjacent to the present Gomez Apartments from single family to multiple residential be denied.

The two-acre parcel lies in unincorporated area near the intersection of Homestead Boulevard and Morningsun Avenue. Petitioners for rezoning are Mr. and Mrs. Alex Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Schumacher and Meda Childers, all of Mill Valley.

"If you grant this, the epidemic is on," declared Commissioner William Secor

UNIVERSAL PROBLEM

Aged's Finances Due Future Rise

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The aged of the future will be in much better financial shape than today's elderly people, according to a New York banker who believes money is the almost universal problem of the aged.

G. Warfield Hobbs, vice president of the First National City Bank of New York and chairman of the National Committee on the Aging, made his comments yesterday at the fifth congress of the International Assn. of Gerontology.

"The new generation of older people will be much better off financially than old people are today," he said. "The present group of indigent aged is diminishing quite rapidly."

But, he added, the decrease should be stepped up through the efforts of business, government and the individuals themselves.

Hobbs made these suggestions for keeping elderly people on their own financial feet:

1. Retirement rules should be flexible; workers who want and are able to work past age 65 should not be forced to retire. And such an attitude would be of economic benefit to employers. "If employers begin pensions at the age of 70 rather than 65 their companies will save up to 40 per cent in pension payments."

2. Social Security payroll deductions and pension benefits should both be increased. Also, one of the biggest boosts for retired persons would be removal of the $1,200 annual limit on the amount they can earn without losing Social Security benefits.

3. Pensions should be "portable" so that when a worker leaves one firm he could take his pension credit to another job.

4. Corporations should have intelligent pre-retirement counseling programs informing employees years before retirement what to expect—the good and bad points about retirement.

5. And individuals should help themselves. "I'm a great believer in individualism. I think the individual should supplement community or government measures with his own savings or earnings."

Actor Is Bankrupt

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Actor John Carradine declared himself bankrupt yesterday. The performer listed debts of $23,021 and assets of $250.

Tomales Church Fetes Centennial Sunday

The centennial of the Church of the Assumption in Tomales will be celebrated at religious ceremonies Sunday. In the white wooden church, built in 1860, church dignitaries and prominent laymen will assemble for the 10 a.m. high mass in what is one of the oldest Catholic churches in the Bay Area.

Rev. Aldo Grasso, OSJ, the pastor, has invited Rev. Norton J. Herold, S.J., who is with the University of San Francisco and a member of a pioneer Tomales family, to say the mass. The Church of Assumption choir will sing. A message from Archbishop John J. Mitty will be read, and Msgr. John McGarr of San Anselmo will be present as a representative of the archdiocese.

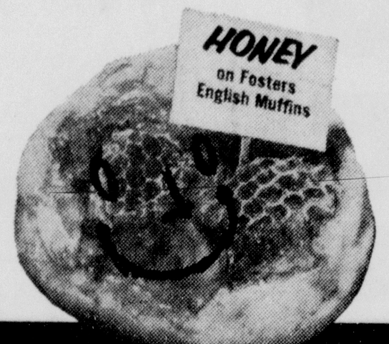

The centennial is being observed on the eve of the Feast of the Assumption and over the altar has been hung a recently completed painting of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin. The artist was Luigi Guglielmino of the Reffo School in Piedmont, Italy. The painting is the gift of the Louis Terza family.

The church has been repainted inside and out. On the light walls beside the Stations of the Cross are liturgical symbols, similar to those seen in the Catacombs in Rome. In the choir loft is an organ from the Star of the Sea Church in Sausalito.

A large white marble statue of the Madonna and Child at the front of the church is a relic of the handsome stone edifice built in 1901 to replace the old church. The new church was shaken into a pile of rubble in the earthquake of April 18, 1906 and the parishioners returned to worship in the little frame church nearby which remains in use today.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Where Will We Get Water After We Outgrow Supply?

The Nicasio dam, now under construction, was in the discussion stages so long we find it difficult to accept the fact that discussion has ended and completion is in sight.

Since it is being built outside the boundaries of the Marin Municipal Water District which it is destined to serve, there was considerable controversy about taking the necessary farm lands. Then there was a difference of opinion with county officials over financing of a new highway to replace the one that will be flooded by the huge new lake to be created.

Finally, by dint of patience and perseverance, these differences were resolved and the way was cleared to begin.

The Marin Municipal Water District has a long and enviable history of keeping up with the times. In spite of the population boom here in Marin since World War II, we haven't yet overrun our water supply. District officials usually were working on plans for the next major dam (Nicasio will be the third in a decade) and thinking about the next one after that.

Bond issues had to be voted a couple of times to finance the huge outlays for dam construction, but bond interest and redemption has always been met out of current revenues; the district has never had to levy a property tax. And all the while basic water rates have remained the same.

The district has not been without its problems, however. Several times, including last fall, it was touch and go whether the water supply would last until the rains came. And distribution problems have been chronic. That is, even when the supply was adequate, there are a few scattered areas that have suffered a serious drop in pressure at times of peak consumption. The district has worked away at the job of enlarging mains and installing new holding tanks so as to alleviate most of the distribution problems, but some still remain to be dealt with completely.

Now it appears that the new dam will be ready in time to catch fall rains, insuring another few years protection from critical shortage.

But then what?

There may possibly be one more major dam site in West Marin but that is just about it.

Our growth and increased water consumption will, in the not-too-distant future, out run the local supply.

Already the North Marin Water District, serving Novato and adjacent areas, has commenced efforts to get Russian River water piped in.

The North Bay aqueduct project, if ever built, may bring Central Valley water to Marin.

Someday we may be seen de-salting sea water reduced to an economically feasible basis.

Let us hope that our water district officials are as successful in planning for the future during the next 20 years as they have been in the past several decades.

A Gossipy, Old Friend

Last night in our neighbor's plum tree we recognized a gossipy, old friend. Its black and white plumage and long greenish tail told us instantly it was a magpie. This also explained the raucous noises we had been hearing in our neighborhood the past week.

What we'd been hearing sounded like a jay—but different! No jay has such a varied vocabulary or chatters for so long. Magpies are diverting and sociable neighbors.

The magpie's appetite is its downfall. Besides helping the vulture get rid of carcasses, the magpie is also a fresh fruit gourmet and likes the eggs of other birds as an appetizer. In flocks they have been known to attack lambs and new-born calves, inflicting vicious wounds. As children in Colorado we hunted them for the county bounty.

Now, however, we are inclined to balance the magpie's depredations against the caterpillars, grubs, beetles and other insect pests which they devour in large quantities.

We have mellowed in our attitude. As long as Marin's magpies don't thrive in large flocks and attack the livestock, they make interesting and entertaining neighbors.

He's certainly as handsome a feathered fellow as you are likely to meet.

Nothing Wrong With Teen-Ager Who Writes Nice Note From Camp

NEW YORK (AP)—The doctor waited until Joe Grapple had rolled down his sleeve and buttoned the cuff.

"I'm afraid you're a bit tense again, Mr. Grapple," he said. "And your blood pressure is up. Are you having any business problems."

"Naw, everything's okay," said Joe. He hesitated a moment, then said, "It's my daughter, Doris."

Doris was one of the doctor's favorite patients. Into his mind flashed the picture of a 14-year-old girl with a prudent face and blue eyes serious beyond her age.

"She went to a summer camp last week," said Joe. "This is the first year I have been able to scare up the dough to send her.

"Did she have an accident?" asked the doctor.

"Oh, no, Doc. Nothing like that."

"Well, then, what's bothering you?"

"Well, we got a letter from her today, and it's kinda got me worried."

"Why?"

"Well, you know the crazy letters most kids write from camp, all about the goofy things that happen to them," he said.

"Guys at the office for years have been showing me the letters their kids wrote from camp—and they were all funny. Well, Doris didn't write anything funny."

"Do you want to show me the letter?" inquired the doctor. That was exactly what Joe wanted. He quickly pulled out the letter.

The doctor read:

"Dearest Daddy,

"I am having a wonderful time at Camp Birchbark. The food is fine, and I have made friends with a girl named Ruth.

"We go swimming and canoeing together, and I am learning leatherwork and I am making a couple of surprise presents for you and mother.

"Last night before I fell asleep I heard a whippoorwill outside in the dark, and it made me a little homesick. I thought of you and mother in the hot, sticky city and wondered if you miss me as much as I miss you.

"Ruth told me how much it costs to stay at this camp. I didn't know it was so expensive. I guess that's really why you didn't get the new car you wanted, isn't it, Daddy?

"You and Mother have always done so much for me. I won't forget that either.

"YOUR LOVING daughter, Doris."

The doctor folded the letter and handed it to Joe. Joe looked at him anxiously.

"You think she's all right, Doc?" he asked. "She don't write nothing screwball like the other kids. You think she's okay?"

"I'D GIVE anything in the world for a daughter who wrote me a letter like that," said the doctor. "Joe, you're the luckiest man alive."

Questions Heard With Resentment

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Our elected officials advise there is no need to write Letters to the Editor; all we have to do is appear before them to be heard. Experiences prove this is no longer true.

A Special Service District in North Marin where I appeared in accordance with such advice proved the elected officials talk 95 per cent of the time and refuse to listen the other 5 per cent —resulting in stampeding the taxpayer out of the room without his getting a word in edgewise. Ensuing repercussions, known to a few, caused this particular board to remember, that it is the people who are autonomous in government.

We now face this same problem on the county level. At recent budget hearings before the supervisors, a few of us sat in embarassment watching department heads and elected officials degrade us to a new all-time low. The intent of these officials to consider the budget by attempting to skin one another of their strength with political budget hatchets at the lower disrespectful level of personalities is a new approach indeed.

Knowledge seeking questions of the public terminated for fear of magnifying the situation beyond control. This flagrant demonstration of our officials at the level of personalities, reflects an attitude that they, and not the people, are autonomous in government, For it was stated that everyone wants to become an auditor merely because we have civic interest to come out at night and seek an understanding by our very normal questions.

When my questions are heard with resentment and considered as a protest to the problem rather than knowledge seeking questions for better understanding, then I know beyond doubt, that I have disturbed political complacency of department heads and officials who have adopted an attitude that they are the autonomy in government and not the people.

I have placed my questions with our Supervisor Gnoss because I did not want to magnify the disgraceful situation that developed before the board. Mr. Gnoss has answered most of them and I am satisfied. This is as it should be.

To save a tax dollar is commendable, but to save it at the loss of thousands of dollars that we seek from eastern industrial prospects by degrading the reputation of Marin on a state and national level though government by "personality skinning," is beyond the dignity and respect we hope to achieve in government long dreamed of.

Let's back up fellows and take a new look at the important positions of one another and elevate budget discussions to the higher analytical level that brings the form of government we seek. If any department head or official are inclined to continue to solve problems at the disgraceful level of personality skinning, it is well for them to button their lips and wait till midnight and beat the h—— out of each other in the alley. At least the reputation of the county and governments within it, will still have a degree of dignity and respect that will be noticed by those we seek.

It is well to remember, "that as we speaketh, so we are on that which we create" —a dollar saved and a thousand lost.

Civil Defense Hospital Set Up

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The State Civilian Defense with the asssitance of the Air Force Reserve recently set up a Civilian Defense Emergency Hospital. This required much organization and the efforts of many men, all for the benefit of acquainting the public with the facilities available for emergency medical care.

Since I felt this was of paramount importance to the medical and allied professions, I drove up to Novato after office hours to look at the impressive set up. And it was impressive. The equipment was efficiently adequate yet compact, arranged to cover all medical, electrical, and water emergencies, and complete with aide men at all stations.

But there was one very large factor missing — the viewing audience. There had been only 30 to 40 visitors to the exhibit by the time I arrived and at that time I was the only one present. I feel this reflects the apathy of the general public as well as the medical profession toward civilian defense emergency measures. Americans, busy with their own small lives, either say, "Let George do it," or "Such emergencies won't happen so why worry!"

Of course it is hoped that war won't occur but if it does it is a sad reflection on the nature of the American people that only a handful will be prepared to handle the emergencies of the hysterical multitudes.

Yuccas Flourish On Miracle Mile

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It's plain that you (in words of the Good Book) endeavor to fill our cup to overflowing.

Not only do the editorials abound with comments, events and conditions, but also remind us of miracles performed in Marvelous Marin of our hills, sky, trees, lilies, etc., arrayed more gloriously than Soloman.

Now, on the Miracle Mile (Red Hill Avenue No. 210) a miracle is being performed. Here you will find a collection of Yuccas, that botanically belong to the Lily Family (four species grow in the California deserts). One magnificent species is at present reaching toward the sky with its large flowering panicles.

When the flowers are ready to be fertilized Pronuba (the Bridesmaid) at night, in actions full of purpose and deliberation, performs the miracle.

Maybe those actions are inspired by the Great Chief, that too many of us have no use.

"I did not say you were built like a truck," a harassed husband told his wife. "I merely remarked that I'd like to see anybody have the nerve to pass you on the right."

A noted Hollywood producer—a man who believes in giving the public what it wants—watched an "arty," sophisticated film from Europe with obvious disapproval at a recent preview, then summed up his feelings with these immortal words: "Those fellows in their ivory tower have gone off the end of the dock again!"

"You are assured of getting your name in the paper three times: when you're born, when you're wed and when you die," George Heister reminds us, "but you only get to read it ONCE."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

What Marin County Needs Is A Good Locally Produced Cigar

SO GREAT AND lovely a county as Marin deserves a few really great smokers. I know of one, cultivated to fine flower in the shadow of Tamalpais, but would be modestly happy to learn of others.

Definition is in order. The great smoker:

(1) Never smokes before breakfast. To do otherwise is to become a candidate for Smokehouses Anonymous.

(2) Indulges in a modest cigarette or two with the breakfast coffee. Filters are out. This indulgence ends at latest with 10 a.m. unless one doesn't get up till after that hour.

(3) During most of the day is a connoisseur of the pipe, one of a few truly noble instruments (along with the fiddle) ever conceived by the mind of man.

(4) After luncheon possibly, and after dinner certainly, smokes a good cigar.

MARIN COUNTY doesn't grow cigar tobacco, to my knowledge. This is subject to correction, and I hope to be corrected. For this county, like the Cagayan Valley of Luzon, might produce tobacco of a rapturous quality almost too good for mortal.

Climatically, though, the cards may be stacked against us. My own Mill Valley ridge, moreover, is a barebone soil-impoverished affair as to give me as potential grower scant hope, unless what dirt has drifted down to the lowlands is of superlative quality. This indeed may be.

One thing Marin has conferred upon me—a renewed and enhanced appreciation of smoking, especially of cigar smoking.

Cigarettes are pretty poor things at best, the pipe is essential, the cigar is a luxury. From none of these should one ever swear off, unlike Mark Twain who boasted he swore off constantly.

PARDON ME while I slip into anecdotage. Years ago, though, a resident of luxury-loving Peking, I wasn't even aware of cigars until I escorted Roy W. Howard on a train ride. This was from Mukden, Manchuria, in a private car I'd wangled from warlord Chang Tso-lin through his tennis-playing son Chang Hseuh-liang.

The car was furnished with a box of cigars. Roy smoked, with relish.

Many years after Howard commented with surprise that I was smoking a cigar and I innocently said, "It all dates back to the way you enjoyed Chang Tso-lin's cigars riding down to North China."

"What!" Roy exploded. "You don't think I smoked that —— cabbage? I had MY OWN cigars!"

Meanwhile United Press transferred me to Manila, where Marin-like sunshine was the rule and there were lots of the finest cigars on earth.

By exporting the most noisome stinkeroos ever sold for five cents, the Filipinos virtually killed their cigar trade with this country. But I got good ones what the politicos smoked. When I bought them, infrequently, each cost a barrel of Centavos.

ALL THIS COMES to mind through a gift of some cigars from Manila—El Conde de Guille, the long ones with a twisted "pig-tail" end you break off.

Those still aren't quite the ultimate best but they'll do. Mr. Castro can put his Havanas anywhere but in my mouth while El Conde or such is around.

It seems a vast shame that Marin, the superlative county for consuming the best, can't or anyway doesn't, grow such cigars.

But on Fourth Street, San Rafael, can be found some pretty tasty smokes. In cigars there are no bargains. Get that idea out of your head, the way I've been doing the hard, expensive way.

Just get something long, black, mild and expensive. And slip me one.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Kennedy Favored As Campaign Starts But Nixon Will Be Close

WASHINGTON—Fortunately no one can foresee how this Presidential campaign is going to end.

But we do know how it is beginning.

It is beginning with Senator Kennedy in a visibly strong position, with Vice President Nixon facing an uncertain, uphill prospect.

Both nominees and most political writers are agreed on that.

Mr. Nixon counts himself the underdog and he isn't just saying so to avoid overconfidence. He means it. He is planning his campaign accordingly.

Mr. Kennedy knows his problem is to hold the strength he already has and to keep the independent and registered-Democratic voters, who twice supported Gen. Eisenhower, from voting for a Republican President again.

The immediate questions to look at then, are these: What are Kennedy's campaign advantages? How far do they put him ahead? Can Nixon close the gap?

THERE ARE FOUR factors which combine to give Kennedy favorable odds at the outset:

1. The majority of voters are overwhelmingly Democratic and have been almost uninterruptedly for 28 years. Evidence: the Republican party as a party has won a majority of the voters only once in the past 14 Congressional elections. Thus the Republicans have been a minority party in 13 of the past 14 Congressional elections—from 1932 through 1958. Only once did the Republican Congressional candidates get more votes than the Democratic Congressional candidates; that was in 1946 at the peak of Mr. Truman's temporary unpopularity.

2. President Eisenhower's popularity has never rubbed off on the Republican party. After the narrow Congressional majority in 1952, President Eisenhower continued to mount in favor and the Republican party continued to decline in favor. The President won more decisively; the Republican party lost more decisively—lost three consecutive Congresses. The Democratic majority for Congress reached nearly 6,000,000 votes in 1958. Recent public opinion polls show a still greater disparity.

3. At every level of government, from Congress to courthouse, the Democratic party and the Democratic organization is immeasurably stronger than the Republican. Evidence: the U. S. Senate stands 66 Democrats, 34 Republicans. The U. S. House of Representatives has 280 Democrats, 152 Republicans. There are 34 Democratic governors, 16 Republican. The Democrats have majority control of 29 state legislatures, the Republicans seven. The "U. S. News and World Report" notes that of the 177 largest cities, 128 have Democratic mayors, 49 have Republican.

4. Organized labor is stronger than ever, more united, better financed than ever, and will be more active in support of Sen. Kennedy than it was in support of Adlai Stevenson.

THESE ARE formidable assets for Kennedy at the start of his campaign. What does Nixon have with which to counter these disadvantages?

It is a fact that party strength is not automatically translated into votes for the Presidential nominee. The American political habit is to vote for the man, not the party, in choosing a President. Kennedy will have to win this Democratic swing vote; he will not inherit it. Nixon will have his chance to win it.

MERCHANDISING HEAD—Leland A. Johnson of 95 Elm Avenue, Larkspur, has been appointed vice president-general manager of the merchandising division of H. S. Crocker Co. Johnson has been with the firm 15 years. He is a past president of the Corte Madera Lions Club.

Sanitary District Opposes Highway

Bruce J. Gillette, chairman of the Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District, said today the district board is opposed to a freeway going through Tamalpais Valley since either of the two proposed routes would bisect the district and cause engineering and financial problems.

He said the district does not take any position on any freeway route outside of Tam Valley. Gillette, speaking for the district, was reported in the Independent-Journal Aug. 5 to be against a freeway on any route.

San Anselmo Upsets Champs In Semi-Pro Tournament

DeRosa Tames Richmond, 9-1; Santa Rosa Wins

By KARL BARRON

San Anselmo's Ongaro Plumbers disregarded predictions last night as they walloped the highly favored Richmond Elks 9-1 in the third round of the California Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament at Albert Field in San Rafael.

Before the game, Richmond was presented with a trophy from the National Baseball Congress as Northern California NBC champions for 1960. It was given to Elmore Walker, co-manager with Will Norman, by S. L. "Brick" Swegle, California semi-pro commissioner.

Then Ongaro's 20-year-old ace, Bob DeRosa, proceeded to hold the Elks to six hits, gather three out of four for himself, and eliminate Richmond from the tourney.

Sparking the victory with timely hitting were third sac'er John Boccabella with a triple and double and two runs batted in and shortstop Don Lauthers with a double and two RBIs. Centerfielder Ralph Boccabella tallied three runs and collected three singles.

In the first game the Santa Rosa Elks removed the San Mateo Blues from competition by downing the Peninsula team 3-2. The Blues have the game under protest.

Only one game is on tap tonight at 8:15 o'clock between the Pontiac Braves of Oakland and the Burlingame Red Sox. Each team has been beaten once and the loser tonight will be eliminated. Tonight's other scheduled game has been postponed until 11 a.m. Saturday as a convenience to the Riverside Dons and Manteca Merchants teams.

DeRosa was slow starting. He walked Willie Reed, leadoff second baseman, but Reed was picked off trying to steal by a rifle throw from catcher Lou Haas.

PLUMBERS SCORE

The first Ongaro run came in the second. Haas doubled to left field and scored on DeRosa's single to left center.

In the third, with two away, Lankford smashed a double and first baseman Oscar Matnews singled. The big centerfielder tried for the plate and Haas took the throw and was waiting for him. Lankford ran full tilt into Haas, who dropped the ball, picked it up behind the plate, and tagged Lankford. Umpire Johnnie Newton ruled that Lankford had missed the dish, was out, and in the ensuing beef, Newton evicted Lankford from the game.

In the bottom of the third, with one out, John Boccabella made first on an error, first baseman Don McGinnis forced him, stole second and scored when Lauters doubled. Successive singles by Doug Wilson and Pete Arrigoni scored Don, and the Plumbers took a 2-0 lead.

3-RUN RALLY

DeRosa walked two Elks to start the fourth, but a fly to Lauters and two strikeouts staved off the threat, and the Plumbers added three more in their half of the inning. DeRosa led with a single, moved to second on a passed ball, first baseman Tim Reardon walked, both moved on a passed ball, and DeRosa scored on Ralph Boccabella's single. Reardon followed home on a wild pitch. Dorsey struck out the next two batters, but walked Lauters. As the Plumber shortstop stole second a cutoff play failed and Ralph Boccabella scored. Dorsey struck out the side to end the inning.

Don McGinnis, called out on strikes in the fourth didn't like it, told the umpire so in forceful terms, and was tossed out, to be replaced by Art Camara.

In the sixth, Ongaro's put over another score as Ralph Boccabella singled and was driven home by brother John's double.

ONLY TALLY

Richmond's only score came in the seventh, when an error put Dorsey on, Reed singled, a fielder's choice moved Dorsey along to third and he scored on Williams' single. After that, DeRosa calmed down and Richmond never posed a serious threat.

The Plumbers added a cushion of two in the eighth when Ralph Boccabella singled, and John tripled deep to right centerfield. With Camara getting a walk, the double steal was on and worked as John Boccabella came home.

Santa Rosa's Elks have now won two games by one run and lost one by one run. Last night it was 3-2 as they dumped the San Mateo Blues for the second time in this series. They won 4-3 in their first meeting.

The line score:

S.R. .....200 001 000—3 6 1
San M. .....001 000 100—2 5 1

Records Fall At Hardtop Racing Oval

PACHECO — With the emphasis on speed, more records are threatened at Contra Costa Speedway as hardtop racing action, topped by a 25-lap race, continues Saturday night.

Two months still remain on the schedule and seven marks have been cracked already this year at the quarter-mile strip. Four records were lowered during the entire 1959 season.

The four-lap standard fell three times so far during this campaign and the eight-lap mark went down twice.

Le Roy Geving, Petaluma, enjoying the hottest season of his career, owns two marks—the one-lap fast time of 15.44 seconds and the eight-lap standard of 2:08.11.

Nelson Snow, San Pablo, has a 4:10.43 clocking for the 15-lap distance and Bob Filippi, Mill Valley, has a 1:03.93 for four laps.

The 25-lap record of 6:54.87 is held by Chet Thomson, San Lorenzo, who set the mark last October.

Trials begin at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, first race at 8:30.

Titans Put Through Steaming Scrimmage

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Sammy Baugh says his New York Titans need work and work they'll get.

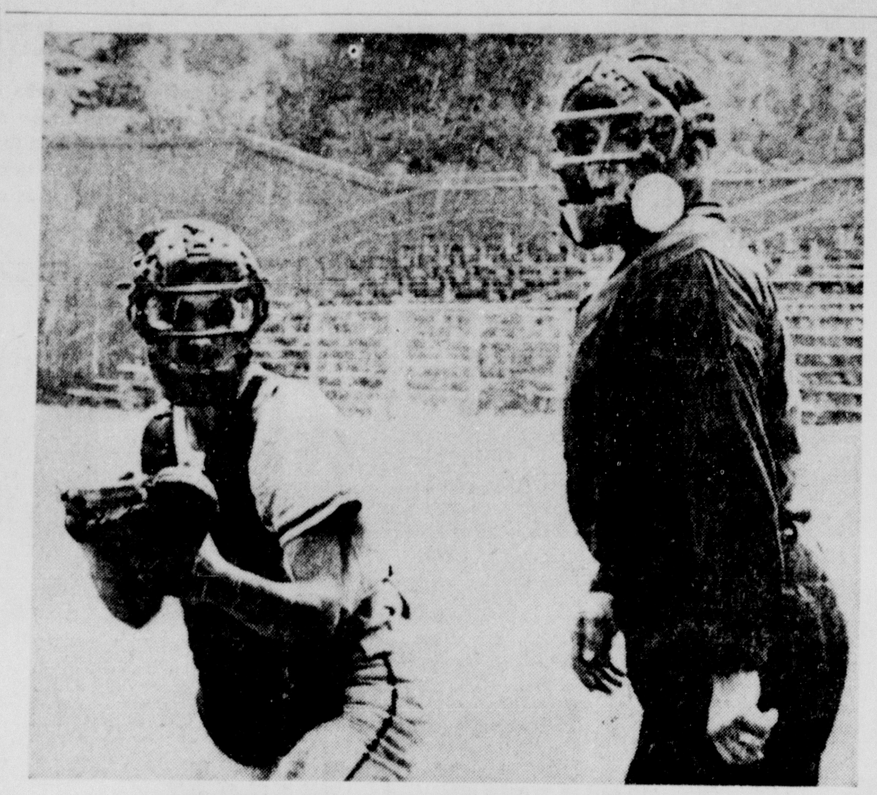

The Titans scrimmaged yesterday in California's steaming capitol city. It was 90 degrees yesterday.

The Raiders, training at Santa Cruz, scheduled their workout for tonight—cooler.

WILT CHANGES MIND, SIGNS WITH WARRIORS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Wilt The Stilt Chamberlain, who last March said he was through with professional basketball, tody signed a new three-year contract with the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association.

Warriors owner Eddie Gottlieb, while refusing to disclose the terms of the pact, said it made Chamberlain "the highest paid athlete in sports today."

Chamberlain, the 7-foot-1 Negro who shattered almost every NBA record on the books as a rookie last season, reportedly earned $60,000 from the Warriors in 1959.

Chamberlain announced he was quitting pro basketball following the Warriors' elimination by the Boston Celtics in the semi-final playoffs of the NBA. He said at that time he was tired of being roughed up and that if he played another season things might happen that everybody would be sorry for.

Vinegar Bend Spark In Pittsburgh Drive

By Associated Press

Back in 1952 the sports writers covering the major league spring camps voted a tall, rawboned youngster named Wilmer Mizell the most likely to succeed.

He had a fast ball that sang, and the fact he came from a town with the intriguing name of Vinegar Bend, Ala., and had a quaint way of expressing himself heightened interest in the affable southpaw.

He was good enough, but he never quite lived up to expectations after the St. Louis Cardinals signed him in December 1951, and a stretch in the armed services didn't help him too much.

He started this season with an indifferent lifetime record of 68 victories against 67 defeats.

The Cardinals thought so little of him after he had won one game and lost three that last May 28 they swapped him to the Pittsburgh Pirates for a couple of their farmhands.

Since joining the pennant-hungry Pirates Vinegar Bend has won eight games and lost two. He has won five in a row, completed four straight, and until the Chicago Cubs pushed a run across against him in the fifth inning last night he had pitched 30⅓ scoreless innings.

He won the game, 7-1, allowing only five hits, and the Bucs retained their five-game lead in the National League race.

CARDS SWEEP PAIR

The cast of characters in the runnerup spot switched, though. Milwaukee, which had been in second place, lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 while the erstwhile third-place header from the Phillies 5-4 and 6-0 to leap frog into second. San Francisco was rained out at Cincinnati.

In the American League the New York Yankees evened their series with the Chicago White Sox by taking the second of three games, 7-4; Cleveland beat Boston, 6-3; Baltimore blanked Detroit 3-0 and Washington and Kansas City split, the Senators taking the opener, 3-1 in 12 innings, and Kansas City the nightcap, 8-3.

A couple of veterans largely was responsible for the Cardinals' twin triumphs. Stan Musial cracked a pair of doubles in the first game, scored each time, and knocked in another run with a sacrifice fly.

The second game was all Curt Simmons, who turned in his fourth victory against two defeats, and his third over his former teammates. When the Cards gave him three runs in the sixth inning without getting a hit, it was all he needed. Gene Conley lost his eighth game against seven victories.

Lindy McDaniel was credited with his ninth victory in 12 decisions in the first game. He allowed one hit in the 2⅓ innings he worked. Musial's second double in the eighth resulted in the winning run. He scored on Curt Flood's single to break a 4-4 tie.

Johnny Podres, on the mound for Los Angeles, had everything under control for eight innings. He had fanned 10, walked only two, and had allowed the Braves only five hits.

Then the roof started to sag. Eddie Mathews opened the ninth with his 24th home run. Podres got the next two batters but Billy Bruton doubled and Johnny Logan and Felix Mantilla singled and the Dodger lead was cut to one run. Larry Sherry came in to get the third out and preserve Podres' 10th victory.

Giles Turns Down Martin's Appeal; Must Pay $500 Fine

CINCINNATI (AP)—The bone-breaking punch that Cincinnati Reds' second baseman Billy Martin gave pitcher Jim Brewer of the Chicago Cubs last Thursday still is going to cost him $500.

Martin has served out the five-day suspension that went with the fine.

National League President Warren C. Giles announced yesterday night after a hearing requested by Martin that the penalties would stand. He said he heard nothing at the hearing that would cause him to change his mind about the fine and suspension.

A subdued Martin said he would abide by the decision but indicated he felt he had made his point.

"The thing I wanted to point out," he said, "was that I actually thought Brewer was coming over to fight. I'll never change my mind on that."

He insisted again it was not a "sucker" punch he threw at Brewer.

"I always said he (Brewer) wasn't surprised," Martin declared.

At the time of the incident, Martin claimed Brewer had thrown a pitch at his head. The ball nicked Martin's bat and caromed off his helmet. On the next pitch, Martin's bat flew out of his hands toward the mound.

He went out to pick it up, then suddenly swung on Brewer after they had exchanged words.

The punch broke an orbital bone under the right eye. Brewer is expected to be out of action for at least a month.

In a Chicago hospital, Brewer said "I think it (the fine and suspension) is strong enough but I'm glad it wasn't lifted."

Reds' General Manager Gabe Paul and Judge Robert Cannon of Milwaukee, attorney for ballplayers, accompanied Martin to the hearing but Paul said Martin did most of the talking.

Although he refused to lift the fine, Giles said "Martin seemed very sincere in emphasizing that he did not intend any surprise blow and seemed truly sorry for the whole affair."

Marin Team Plays Opener At Tourney

Twin Cities All-Stars of Larkspur-Corte Madera left at 9 a.m. today for Roseville where they will compete in the California State Little League Baseball Championships starting tomorrow night.

First round drawings matched the Marin County champions against Pacific of Sacramento tomorrow night at 6 o'clock in the semi-finals. The other semi-final will be played Friday night, 6 o'clock, between Visalia and Sunnyvale. Winners of the semi-finals will clash for the championship Saturday and the state champ will go to the Little League Far West Regional Tournament in Phoenix, Ariz., next week.

Twin Cities Manager Mike Robert has selected 12-year-old righthander Russell Smith to pitch tomorrow night's opener. In regular season play with the Bowman Electric team in the Twin Cities League Smith compiled a 12-1 won-lost record. In All-Star tournament competition he has won three games.

STARTING LINEUP

Robert said his starting lineup and batting order would be Kevin Wilson, second base; Mike Weis, catcher; Jack Simpson, shortstop; Smith, pitcher; Jack Baglietto, first base; Bennett Gabrielson, right field; Terry Beaudoin, left field; Woody Hayter, center field; Parky Stephenson, third base.

The balance of the squad is made up of Coach Art Marshall, Bruce Conyers, Vince Adcock, Victor Saulinas, Bob Nelson, Jim Vandall and bat boy Ken Johnson.

Twin Cities qualified for the state tournament by winning the Marin District Tournament and a Northern California Sectional Tournament during the past two weeks.

'Pep Pills' Turn Out To Be Just Ordinary Vitamins

NEW YORK (AP)—The case of the suspected pep pills was closed today by the U.S. Olympic Committee.

An analysis of a pill found in the women's locker room during the Olympic trials at Detroit last week was found to be a vitamin pill.

"It was an ordinary pill used to make up a deficiency in iron, and could be bought in any drug store without a prescription," said Jim Simms, secretary-treasurer of the AAU.

Last Sunday, Weikke Ruuska, one of whose daughters, Dylvia, made the team, charged that the women were taking pep pills. The charge brought denials from coaches and officials.

Sheehan Tells Off Staggering Giants

CINCINNATI (UPI)—The San Francisco Giants found out last night that when it rains, it pours.

Their game with Cincinnati was rained out—so Manager Clancy Sheehan gathered his slumping charges in the clubhouse and really poured it on.

"They play as though they've never been in a ball park before," Sheehan told newsmen. "They throw to wrong bases, miss cut-off men—or hit them when they shouldn't. And their base running—well, just say I believe it leaves a little bit to be desired."

The manager warned his players that they might suffer a financial slump if they don't snap out of the playing habits that have resulted in eight losses and one victory on the present road trip.

He said the players would get news from the 1961 paymaster, "none of it good," at contract time unless they start winning.

They'll get their chance to break a five-game losing streak tonight—weather permitting.

Sheehan said he had planned to pitch Stu Miller, but indicated he might switch to Sad Sam Jones, who was scheduled to see action last night.

That would leave Billy O'Dell, Jack Sanford and Juan Marichal for the Milwaukee series that starts tomorrow.

The Redlegs, who won the first game of the series, were expected to send Bob Purkey to the mound tonight. He also was scheduled to pitch last night's game, which will be played as part of a doubleheader Sept. 9 when the Giants make their final trip to Cincinnati.

San Francisco fell 12 games off the pace last night, as league-leading Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs. The fifth-place Giants trail fourth-place Los Angeles by five games and hold a six and one-half game margin on the sixth-place Reds.

Fights Last Night

Los Angeles—Ricardo Gonzalez, 125½, Buenos Aires, knocked out Hank Aceves, 126, Los Angeles, 8. Boots Monroe, 127½, Los Angeles, knocked out Noel Humphreys, 127, Charleston, W.Va., 4.

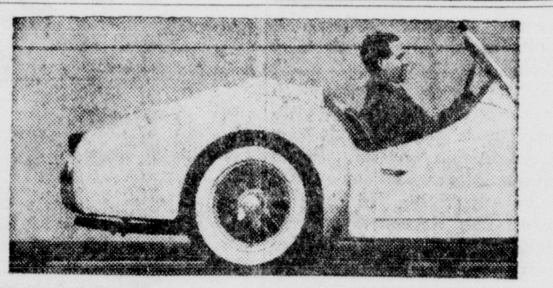

Reno, Nev. — Frankie Ramirez, 144, Los Angeles, knocked out Moses Cooper, 149, Stockton, Calif. 7.

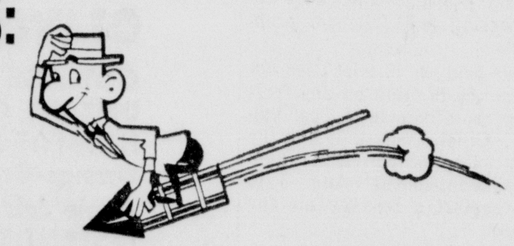

S.R. GRID STAR IMPRESSIVE IN SCRIMMAGE

Kent Francisco, San Rafael High School graduate, yesterday was hailed as the outstanding player in the West Bay All-Star football team's first scrimmage preparatory to its Aug. 20 game against the East Bay in San Francisco's Kezar Stadium.

The 6-foot, 3-inch, 225-pound tackle from San Rafael was singled out by Co-Coaches Bob Berry of Willow Glen and Bill Feiling of Lowell as the most impressive performer. Francisco recently starred in the North-South Shrine game in Los Angeles.

The West team is working out daily at Jefferson High in Daly City.

Pirate Business Chief Praises Hustle Of Bucs

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "They never give up. They never quit. They never press the panic button."

General Manager Joe L. Brown of the Pittsburgh Pirates cited these factors today as the main fuel in Pittsburgh's drive for its first National League pennant since 1927.

The Bucs are leading the league, well ahead of the Milwaukee Braves.

'TEAM EFFORT'

"The Pirates are the most aggressive bunch of fellows I have ever seen," said Brown. "It's been a team effort all the way. No superstars, just team balance and a lot of hustle."

Brown said a pennant winner doesn't need to have the strongest man in the league at each position.

"I'd rather have a team with no glaring weakness than a tean full of superstars," Brown went on. "Right now the club doesn't have any noticeable holes. You just pull all the players together and you have a winner," he added.

TAKE UP SLACK

"Every time one of our boys falls into some sort of slump, there's always someone else there to take up the slack. Guys like Dick Groat, Bob Clemente have been leading the club in hitting all year. But when they don't come through Bill Virdon, Gino Cimoli or somebody else are there to help.

"Lots of times the individual statistics don't show the value of a player to his club. In Pittsburgh, everybody's helping."

The Pirate official asserted there isn't a player on the squad who doesn't throw some sort of scare into the opponents.

HARD ON PITCHERS

"Right now Bill Mazeroski and Dick Stuart have pretty low batting averages. But let's face it, they both scare pitchers. Stuart can blast a home run at time. And Maz can hit in the clutch.

"A few losses don't get the team down. They've got a lot of hustle. With that attitude, we've a darn good chance of taking the flag.

Giant Hurling Runs Hot And Cold; They've Lost Competitive Spark

CONNOLLY

It is pretty evident by now that the S.F. Giants have lost the spark of competition, maybe not entirely, but to a marked degree.

At times the team shows traces of coming back, but it is mighty hard to accomplish pennant fever with a sick hitting ball club.

When the Giants win, and they do every so often, it isn't due to them clobbering the ball, but to some outstanding pitching performance of one or the other members of the pitching staff.

One day it is Juan Marichal, next it is Sam Jones, Bill O'Dell, Mike McCormick or Jack Sanford. But they never seem to manuever these great pitching feats into consecutive games.

Sanford looks great one day and the next time out he is wilder than a marsh hare. He has pin-point control one time and the next time he has neither control nor, so it seems, that spark of college do-or-die spirit.

O'Dell is the hard luck pitcher of the club. He deserves better treatment.

McCormick, of late, has been disappointing. He looked in the early season competition to have really "found" himself. Lately, he is crabbing at the umpires, cry-babying for every outside pitch, something entirely foreign to his former makeup.

SAM JONES pitches with vigor and vitality one day and the next he comes up with a lackadaisical effort. When he was at his best in 1959 you could detect the determination in his walk and in his every movement. Of late he struts off the diamond with a cakewalk air of "Well, it's the best I could do today."

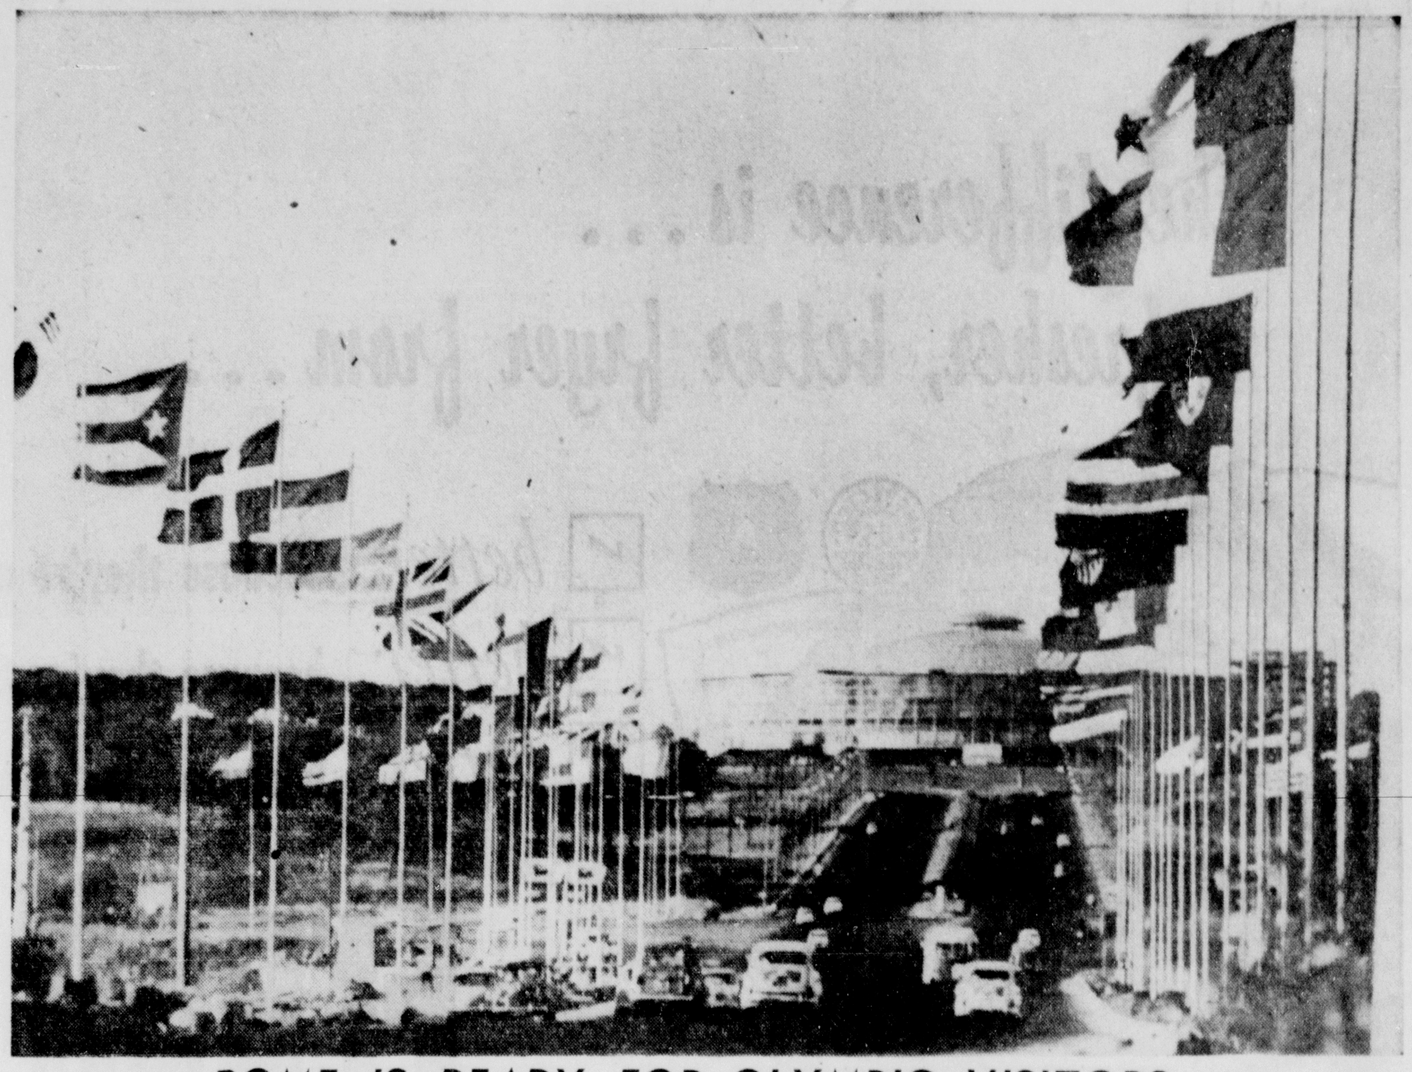

There's no use mentioning Johnny Antonelli because his efforts have been offshore altogether. And for the life of me, I can't understand how anybody hauling in 35,000 clams a season is only able to capture only a few victories in more than 30 starts.

When he does pitch well, Antonelli is the master of all he surveys. But those sort of exhibitions to date have been few and far between.

Marichal has slowed down after his fast start, but we'll have to wait and see how he does the rest of the season.

THE SHOWING of his Giants has somewhat embittered owner Horace Stoneham, but only to the extent that he dreads what could happen to his gate in 1961.

For the balance of the season, win or lose, the financial success of Stoneham's Giants is guaranteed. And after that it will all depend on how soon or how many trades or sales he can make to break up an otherwise sloppy aggregation of capable but careless athletes. A new manager next season may be the answer.

Soviets Pin Gold Medal Hopes In Track On Phenomenal Gal Stars

MOSCOW (AP)—A couple of shy sisters from the Ukraine who have never been beyond the Iron Curtain are the Soviet Union's big one-two track and field punch in the Olympic Games starting Aug. 26 in Rome.

With the Soviet Union lacking a male star certain to win, Tamara and Irina Press loom as successors to 1956 double champion Vladimir Kuts as the toast of the huge hammer and sickle brigade.

"I will be disappointed if Tamara does not win medals in both the shot and discus," Soviet head coach G. V. (Harry) Korobkov said today. "As for Irina—that girl can do anything. She is marvelous."

Tamara twice broke the world record in the women's shot put this year winning the Olympic trials with 59 feet. She hurled the discus 182 three inches.

The slimmer, younger Irina tied the world 80 meter hurdles record with 10.6 seconds. She also is a good sprinter and broad jumper.

Korobkov said he plans to enter her for three events including the relay. "I am confident each of the girls will win at least one gold medal and a place in other events," he added. "Between them they may win five."

Tamara is 23 and built for durability. Five-feet-seven, she weighs 198 pounds and has arms and legs like young oaks. A long, back-sweep hairdo frames a strong, square face.

Irinia, 21, is lean and supple with close-cropped curls and flashing blue eyes. At a quick glance she bears a striking resemblance to the late Babe Didrikson Zaharias, America's all-time great woman athlete.

Tamara and Irina Press are classic examples of how the Soviet Union takes promising young stars and molds them through specialized training into sports jewels.

The girls were born in Charkov in the Ukraine. Their father was killed in the war. Their mother worked at manual labor.

"While we were still young we moved to Samarkand in the Asian province," Irina said. "There we began playing in the streets and in the forests. We were what you called 'tomboys.'

"Tamara was a very good runner then and she caught the eye of athletic officials. They put her in a children's sports school for training and she began competition. Later, although I was not good, I was invited to the sports school also."

The Press sisters were given the equivalent to a scholarship for study at the Leningrad Institute in 1957.

"I am in the fourth year of a motoring school and Tamara is studying construction," Irina said. "I want to build bridges,. Tamara wants to build houses."

Perkins 2-1 Over Lopes In TV Fight

CHICAGO (AP) — Eddie Perkins of Chicago, No. 4 ranked lightweight contender by the National Boxing Assn., rules a solid 2-1 favorite for his Chicago Stadium bout with Joey Lopes tonight.

The 10-rounder will be televised on ABC, 7 o'clock, PDT. Scoring will be under the five point must system.

Perkins, 23, has defeated Chico Rollins, Larry Boardman and Paola Rosi this year to gain his high ranking. He hopes to earn a shot at Joe Brown's title.

Perkins has won 19 fights and lost 6. He is credited with six kayoes.

Lopes, 29, once was the No. 1 lightweight contender and in his last bout in Chicago Stadium three years ago he battled Brown to a draw. He has a 49-20-5 record, including 19 kayoes, but has won only five of his last 14 starts.

This year Lopes stopped Henry Salcido, defeated Hilario Morales and drew with Rosi

Sohner Splits Softball Pair

Jay Leatherwood hurled a nifty two-hitter and struck out 13 to pace Sohner Tree Service to a 5-1 victory over Fort Scott in the second game of a softball doubleheader in San Francisco Monday night. The Soldiers won the opener, 5-0.

Fort Scott scored three runs in the third inning of the opener and added two more in the fifth to allow pitcher Curt Rowling to coast to an easy victory. Rowling limited Sohner's to three hits.

But the nightcap was a completely different story. After spotting the Soldiers an unearned first-inning tally, the Treemen scored twice in the second, once in the third, and twice more in the fourth to ice the victory. Art Donati and Tom Orovich provided the key blows in the Sohner rallies.

Leatherwood retired the last 17 batters he faced and did not walk a batter to register his fifth win against two losses.

49ers Getting Old? Hickey Not Worried

By HAL WOOD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Life begins at 30 in professional football in the camp of the San Francisco Forty-niners.

Take the word of head coach Red Hickey, no man on the club will be dropped because the records show that he is getting old.

"I don't care how old a man is. I'm not concerned with his age," says Hickey. "If he's the best man, he'll make the team."

There is considerable ado over the Forty-niners this year on the possibility that the club is growing old.

The records reveal that, while the average career for a professional football player is about five years, the Forty-niners have nine with six or more years experience; and 12 with five years or more in the big top.

THE VETS

The veterans on the crew are quarterback Y. A. Tittle and fullback Joe Perry, each 33 years old and each starting his 13th campaign in professional football.

Leo Nomellini, the part-time wrestler, is listed in the official brochure as 36 years old, but last season he was only 33. He will be starting his 11th campaign as a tackle—and a good one. He was on the all-star pro team last year. The Lion weighed in at 255 pounds this year, the same as always.

End Billy Wilson, who was considered "too frail" to play pro ball when he reported to camp from San Jose State, will be starting his 10th campaign. And he's counted on as a regular at the age of 33.

NINTH YEAR

Hugh (the King) McElhenny, 31, is being shifted from flanker to "tight back" this year and is battling for a regular spot. It's his ninth year.

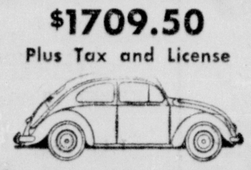

Tackle Bob St. Clair, a respected citizen and city councilman from Daly City, opens his eighth campaign—all 265 pounds and six foot nine inches of him.

And so it goes with a club that Hickey believes will be better than the surprisingly good one he turned out last year.

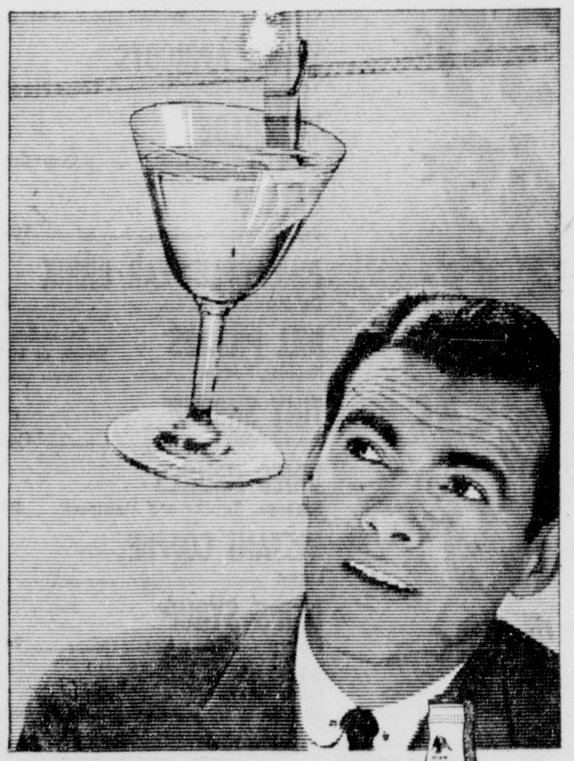

"Don't forget with all these veterans, we had nine rookies make the club last year," says Hickey. "This year there are a cinch five places open, because Dallas has four of our men and we traded Dickie Moegle to Pittsburgh.

"So we are going to get more youngsters. If we take on nine this year, it will mean that just half of our club is made up of either first or second-year men."

Pears Are Just Right For Back-To-School Lunches

September is a month of picking up where you left off before the lazy luxury of summer. Back to school, back to fixing lunches, back to on-schedule meals and off-schedule parties. Fresh golden California Bartletts o u t-season most other summer fruits and, happily, they should be around for another month and a half. Keep them in the refrigerator for quick refreshment.

How to Serve Pears:

The simplest and possibly the most gourmet of all desserts is fine fresh fruit served with good cheese and nuts The ice cold pears may be served in individual bowls of water as is the custom of Italians. The water keeps the pears dewey and cold and, later you can dip your fingers in the bowl. You can simply put a well chilled pear on the plate with cheese or serve the two separately, the pears in a decorative bowl.

How to Eat Pears:

Although many, many Europeans have grown up with fresh fruit and cheese for dessert, the custom has never really caught on in America. How sad to know that there are many people who consider a tiny glass of juice their sufficient daily quota of fruit—even when fruit is at its most plentiful. When pears are served for dessert, use a fruit knife to half and quarter them, then cut out the core. Generally, each quarter is eaten as it is cored. If a soft cheese is served, it may be spread on the fruit itself, or on crackers. The California Bartletts are so thin-skinned they need not be peeled.

Let's Eat Breakfast Out-Of-Doors

There's nothing that tastes quite so good as breakfast out of doors, whether you're on a camping trip, at the beach or in your own backyard. The air is fresh, everyone's rested (or should be) and another new day is beginning and in a very pleasant way.

Regardless of where you're eating, pancakes and syrup are in order. They're hearty and filling and perfect for everyone in the family, from baby to grandpa.

Every smart camper, with pancakes in mind, includes biscuit mix, dry milk, and a good pancake syrup among his camp staples. For breakfast excursions or backyard breakfasting, the pancakes may be mixed ahead and transported in a plastic container or empty milk carton.

In making the pancakes, here's a trick that boosts their flavor, and makes them fluff up smooth and feather light. Add a little syrup to your pancake batter. It not only works wonders on flavor and lightness but also aids in browning, giving them a beautiful color, both top and bottom.

For cooking pancakes out of doors, a portable camp stove that uses LP-Gas is ideal. Even if you have a charcoal fire nearby, the camp stove can be used just for the pancake making. With outdoor appetites what they are, chances are the pancake griddle will be busy from juice time until the last drop of coffee is gone.

OUTDOOR PANCAKES

2 eggs
1 cup milk
2½ cups biscuit mix
2 tablespoons dark syrup
¼ cup corn oil

Beat eggs until soft peaks form, blend in milk, add biscuit mix and corn syrup. Mix just until thoroughly dampened. Fold in oil. Spoon onto medium hot griddle. When puffed up and bubbles begin to break, cook on other side. Makes 10 to 20.

STACK 'EM UP, everybody has an outdoor appetite. Pancakes and syrup are ideal for outdoor eating.

Summer Refreshment Offered In Delightful Recipes For Melons

Cantaloupes and watermelons have been on the market for some time now and will continue to be available for wonderful eating throughout the summer. However, they will soon be joined by another group of melons, known as the "specialty melons," to give you greater variety and extra pleasure, says Virginia Porter, Home Advisor of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service.

The honeydew is perhaps the most popular of the "specialty melons," with its creamy yellow rind and the cool, pale green flesh. This is an excellent melon any time of the day, from breakfast to late evening snacks and has a particular affinity for a squeeze of fresh lime.

Then there is the Persian melon, looking much like a canteloupe, with similar netting and shape. It is larger, however, its rind beneath the netting is dark green, and the flesh is of a deeper orange hue.

The Casaba melon is the wrinkled one of the group, with an almost globular shape and rough wrinkled furrows running the length of the melon. It is a later melon and much larger in size, and will be a buttery-yellow when mature.

The Cranshaw is fast growing in popularity for it has such a distinctive, spicy flavor. It, too, is a larger melon, pointed at the stem end and rounded at the base with a salmon-colored flesh. It is very perishable and shows ripening by a deepening of the yellow color in its green and gold rind.

You will certainly want to try all these varieties of "specialty melons" and you will find they can be easily substituted for most any cantaloupe recipe you enjoy.

WESTERN MELON CONSERVE

1 pint diced peaches (5-6 medium)
1 pint diced melon
2 lemons, juice and grated peel
3 cups sugar
⅔ cup chopped walnuts

Combine all ingredients in saucepan, except nuts. Cook mixture over low heat until thick and clear, about 1 to 1¼ hours, stirring frequently. Pour into sterilized jars and seal while hot. Makes 3 cups.

PRUNE and MELON KUCHEN

¾ cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped nutmeats
¾ cup melon balls
6-8 prunes
2 packages refrigerated biscuits
½ cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup melted butter or margarine

In the bottom of a greased 1-quart ring mold sprinkle brown sugar. Pour 2 tablespoons butter over this and sprinkle with nutmeats. Arrange melon balls and prunes on top of nuts in a pattern (2 melon balls, a prune, 2 melon balls, etc. is suggested). Remove biscuits from package and dip each one in a combination of the granulated sugar and cinnamon, then dip in melted butter. Arrange the biscuits over the fruit, overlapping each biscuit so that the 2 packages just fit into the ring mold. Bake kuchen at 450° F for 15-20 minutes. Remove from pan while still hot onto plate so that the fruit side is up. This kuchen can be made several hours ahead of time and refrigerated until just before baking. Makes 6-8 servings.

An Important Guide To Keep On Domestic, Imported Cheese

By BARBARA HOSMER

Remember the round red ration points you had to "pay" the grocer from 1942 to 1945? Like most people Americans have a penchant for pushing aside the unpleasantries of such things as food rationing, but the need to ante up ration points for cheeses during those years served to increase the demand for good cheese ever since.

Greater and greater has become our appreciation for both domestic and imported cheeses, until every market of size carries a variety close to what was traditionally offered by the delicatessen.

Confronted with a large assortment, the shopper needs a little assistance in the form of her (or his) knowledge of which cheese tastes best in which dishes or served alone.

Women usually buy cheese to use in cooked dishes. Men are considered the gourmets of cheeses, preferring their favorites as robust snacks with crackers and local wines, as many a refrigerator pirate will tell you.

Legend has it that cheese-making began about 3000 B.C. when an Arab merchant set out on a journey with milk poured into a pouch made from the lining of the fourth stomach of a calf or lamb. This creature was still a suckling and rennet was present in his stomach lining which caused curds to form in the milk. When the thirsty merchant reached for a drink, he found curds instead, and the basis of cheese-making. Cheese has been a diet staple ever since. The armies of Greece and Rome ate cheese rations just as did American GI's in World War II. Sometimes Viking sailors were paid wages in cheese after a voyage.

Then monks began to produce special cheeses. Roquefort was made in the Monastery of Conques by 1000 A.D.; the Trappist monks of northern France developed Port du Salut and the Trappists in Oka, Quebec, today make a Canadian version of it. Limburger cheese was developed in Limburg, Belgium; Muenster is named for Munster in western Germany; Camembert for that community in the northwest of France. Cheddar is an English contribution named for that area in Somerset. The caves of Roquefort in the Auvergne mountains of France were carved to age this cheese in the natural temperature and humidity required.

Cheese-making skill came to the New World with the Jamestown settlers and later with European immigrants. The five American cheese varieties are Brick, 1876; Cream, 1872; Liederkranz brand., 1892; Monterey, made by the California Jacks family in 1892; and Nuworld, 1953. The Monterey Jack was thought to be developed from a cheese made by California's early Spanish settlers and known as El Queso-del Pais.

The cheese you're likely to find in the market include, American Cheddar, of English origin, a white or creamy yellow interior, for cookery or table use; Bel Paese, Italian, gray surface, light yellow inside, soft cheese for table use or dessert; Blue (bleu if imported), French semi-soft cheese with green-mold interior, made from cow's milk, used in salads, canapes, or dessert; Brick, a Wisconsin product, yellow-brown surface with creamy yellow inside with tiny holes, for table use or sandwiches.

Brie, a French cheese of brown surface and creamy yellow inside, soft-mold ripened, for dessert and table uses; Caciovallo of Italy, tan surface, light interior, a hard cheese for table use or grating; Camembert, another French one, gray-white mold surface with creamy yellow inside for cheese trays, table use and dessert.

Cottage, origin unknown, white soft curds for salad and table use; Cream, a New Yorker, white, smooth cheese for salad, table and sandwich use; Edam, north Holland, waxed red surface with yellow inside for cheese tray, table use or dessert; Gjetost of Norway, light brown with sweetish taste, table use and dessert; Gorgonzola of Italy, tan surface, yellow with green mold interior, for salad, table or dessert; Gouda of south Holland, red coated and creamy yellow inside, for trays, table or dessert; Gruyere of Switzerland, light yellow with nut-sweet flavor, trays, dessert, table uses.

Liederkranz brand, a New Yorker, russet with creamy yellow inside, trays and dessert; Limburger is Belgian, grayish brown outside and creamy white inside with robust flavor, sandwiches and table use; Monterey Jack, a Californian, white, semi-soft and mild, for table, dessert or grating; Mozzarella, an Italian variety, light yellow and mild, great in pizza and other Italian cookery; Muenster, German, creamy white interior for sandwiches and table use; Mysost, a Scandinavian native, a semi-hard whey cheese with sweetish taste, for table or dessert; Neufchatel of France, white and smooth, for salad, sandwich or canapes.

Oka, or Port du Salut of Canada, creamy yellow interior, table use and dessert cheese; Italian Parmesan, very hard, black surface with yellowish interior for grating; Provolone, another Italian, light brown surface lined with rope marks, yellow interior, hard with smoky flavor, for table use; Romano, also Italian, greenish black surface with hard, yellowish white inside, for grating; Roquefort, French, of sheep milk soft, spicy, green-mold interior, salad, table or dessert; Sap Sago, of Switzerland, hard, green flavored with clover, for table or grating; Sbrinz, also Swiss, grayish green exterior, white inside, hard, for grating.

'Fashions Over Ice' Attracts 600 At Keil Estate On Monday

If the models at Monday's "Fashions Over Ice" had been vying for honors as the "most glamorous" in the show it would have been impossible to pick a winner. For each costume seemed more beautiful than the last and each dress more desirable. It would even have been hard to decide whether the costumes or the fall fashions were the more elegant. For the exquisite velvets and chiffons were repeated in the fashions which were from a San Rafael and Novato shop.

The show which was presented by St. Hilary's Women's Club attracted 600 from all parts of the county and was held on the tennis court of the Keil Estate. An efficient shuttle service transported the guests from Tiburon and punch and petit-fours were served before the show. Junior members of the parish, in charming ice follies costumes, circulated through the crowd performing hostess duties and two huge shocking pink teddy bears amused the guests. They subsequently aided the models onto the runway, laughing at the appropriate moments, and indicating hearty approval of many of the fashions. One rubbed his back up and down on the gate post in true bear fashion.

Richard Dwyer, star of the Ice Follies currently in San Francisco, introduced the show and described how the Follies has grown in 25 years from a cast of 28 to its present cast of 128, performing for 50,000,000. A 16 car train is now necessary to transport the show which plays in a score of cities throughout the United States and Canada.

Top honors for modelling went to the ex-ice folliettes who are still able to wear the costumes they wore when they were in the show 10 to 20 years ago. They were particularly stunning in the costumes of next year's 25th anniversary show. Mrs. John Maxson who was the originator of the idea for the show appeared as a tropical bird with a bodice of silk crepe solidly covered with jewels. With it a tu-tu of ostrich and coque feathers shading from chartreuse through deep blue green.

Mrs. Carl Clark modeled the troical rain costume in the same blue green tones but with a full length net skirt with 150 yards of material. A jewelled cap completely covered the hair.

PEASANT COSTUMES

Costumes for a Swiss festival based on authentic peasant costumes were worn by Mrs. William Kothgassner as "Lucerne," Mrs. Marston Thall and her daughter, Lynn, as "Basle" and the Thomas twins, Mesdames John Sullivan and Joseph McDermott, as "Bern." Mrs. Kothgassner wore a vermilion wool challis skirt with petticoat of ice green silk shantung with a turquoise bodice. A jeweled bee-hive hat was worn over an eyelet embroidery and ending with royal blue silk sirah. Their shocking pink bodices were covered with jewels.

Ruby Maxson modeled a swing waltz costume of tangerine satin over 100 yards of tangerine and pink sheer nylon and Mrs. Ray Schramm a red velvet jeweled leotard trimmed with a collar of white fox.

Among the costumes from past ice follies was Kathleen Clark's red toreador outfit complete with black hat.

SPACE COSTUMES

Miss Beverly Kudlack's space costume was decorated with blue bugle beads and nylon plumes. Miss Marcia Sandidge wore brick red stretch pants with a French wool jacket and a matching derby. Finale for the Ice Follies portion of the show was Miss Janet Champion, 15 year old star, in a leotard with a peasant motif and a pert red hat.

The fall fashions were equally well received as the costumes. Mrs. George Goddard wore a brick capeskin leather coat with shirtmaker collar and push-up sleeves; Mrs. Robert Trieber in a black Kimberly knit sheath with a knitted jacket in leopard deceptively real. Mrs. David Stewart in fuchsia silk chiffon with butterfly sleeves; Mrs. Richard Evans in a Portofino green velvet strapless evening dress with large unpressed pleats.

BOUFFANT STYLE

Mrs. Norman Sanguinetti dressed for evening in an amythest silk alpaca with a draped overskirt repeating the bouffant style of her blonde hair. Mrs. Jack Wedereit in a stone green corduroy raincoat and beret with gold accessories.

Many "ohs" and "ahs" for Mrs. Angelo Mirata in a royal purple wool jersey sheath with matching hat and Mrs. Robert Shannon in an acqua angora skirt and matching sweater.

Mrs. Robert Byrnes wore an olive green wool with Somaliland leopard hat collar and bag and Miss Tami Evans modeled a black brocade coat with black fox collar and a black sheath with spaghetti straps. Miss Evans last year was "Miss Marin."

Sharing the commentator duties were Don Carlberg and Mrs. Robert Eaton.

GIVEN FLOWERS

Mrs. Russell Keil, who donated her estate for the event and Mrs. Oscar Johnson, wife of the producer, were presented with flowers by six Ice Follies glamor girls of the future. All of them were daughters of the ex-ice folliettes who are dreaming of a skating career. They are Denise Maxson, Linda Kothgassner, Patricia Sullivan, Terrianne McDermott, Pamela Schullek and Hetti Schramm.

Spotted in the audience were Mrs. MacBoyle Lewis and Mrs. Arthur Collbran chatting before the show; Mrs. James Michael, Mrs. Chester Vargas, Mrs. Thomas Stanton Jr., Mrs. Lowell Airola with Mrs. William Myers and Mrs. David Russell.

Mrs. Robert Samilson, "official" photographer for the Maxson family, catching them as they came down the runway. Also taking pictures Commander Harold Horne with Mrs. Horne.

Waiting for transportation home following the show were Mrs. Roy A. Brown with Mrs. Carlo W. Caletti and Mrs. Edwin Wells.

Hay Balers Dance Termed A Success

A crowd of 20 squares danced to the calling of Al "Tex" Brownlee of Odessa, Tex., Friday night at Davidson School in San Rafael. The dance was sponsored by the Hay Balers of San Anselmo.

Duane Wallace, president, anounced that 22 clubs were represented, coming from the East Bay, Santa Rosa, Sebastopol, Petaluma and Marin.

Wallace wished to express deep appreciation on behalf of the club for the support of all the local clubs.

Brownlee, who has a splendid reputation for topnotch calling, is presently touring the United States on calling dates. His wife, Jean, was able to join him for his Marin and East Bay calling dates, and both were the houseguests of the Hay Balers' caller, "Sparky" Sparks, and his wife, Louise.

Camp Fire Girls Have Overnight

"Hobo stoves" and "buddy burners" helped 25 Camp Fire Girls earn honors in out-door cooking recently when they camped overnight at Camp Alice Eastwood on Mount Tamalpais.

The campout was held to enable the girls to learn many of the arts of out-door living—cooking, hiking and nature lore. As they gathered around their evening campfire, one of the Park Rangers spoke to them of fire and safety precautions.

Mrs. Sidney Foote, Fairfax; Mrs. W. H. Peck, Mill Valley; Mrs. B. E. Davis, Mrs. Richard Dodds and Miss Betty Ojeda of San Rafael and Miss Spring Kraeger of Corte Madera were the counselors for the outing and Mrs. Mary Malloy, Camp Fire district director, was coordinator.

The Camp Fire Girls who participated were from the entire county. From San Anselmo came Patricia and Roseanne MacCleod, Missy Rainey, Peggy Sader, Synne During, Gail Marshik, Mary Anne Richtfertig, Nancy Landreville and Karen Kelso.

Debbie Liddell, Cynthia Milton, Sharon Gorssi, Pamela Davis, Linda Yoder and Janet Hoy live in San Rafael. Also attending were Rebbecca Ann Crisp and Margo Reichard of Corte Madera, Laverne and Lavonne Conway of Larkspur and Linda Jean Frank, Annette Gravem, Eileen Noguchi, Nancy Maysenhalder and Carolyn Wolf of Mill Valley.

Stages Are Set For Club Splash Party

"Get into the swim of it" is the slogan St. Sebastian's Women's Clubs is using to announce its Splash Party on Aug. 18 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Refreshments will be served at the various pools at which the events will be staged. Mesdames Alfred Ruggiero and Monte Ambinder are co-chairmen of the affair.

Committee members include Mesdames Raymond Rovero and Hubert Trembly, reservations; Kenneth Larkins, refreshments: Frank Solomon and Robert Meyers, hostess and reception chairmen; R. G. Wilhelm, life guards; Jack McManus and Leo Perrier, hostesses for the Emil Torre pool; Edwin Borello, publicity.

Hostesses for the day will be Mesdames Edwin Smith, Edwin Borello, Robert Meyers, Frank Solomon, Charles Scroth, Desmo Scatena, Fred Adams, W. E. Coyle, Parker Archer, and John H. McGraw and Eugene Mafaei.

There will be life guards at all of the pools.

They include Dr. and Mrs. Emil Torre, Messrs. and Mesdames Monte Ambinder, David Sullivan, Robert Poschel, Donald Spaan, R. G. Wilhelm, J. W. Zimmerman, Peter Sarocka, Dino Ruggeri, Alfred Ruggiero, George Sarno and James Carroll and Mrs. Walter Garrett.

FORMER NEIGHBORS MEET AT LUNCH IN NEW HOME

Mrs. Arthur D. Barsuglia and her son, Roy, moved into a beautiful new home on a knoll in Marinwood Hills last November after living in one house in San Anselmo for more than 40 years. Recently Mrs. Barsulgia entertained a group of former neighbors and relatives at luncheon preceded by cocktails served on the terrace.

Among the guests were Mesdames Alberto Caletti, Charles J. Lamb, R. L. Alvadaro, Oliver J. Berven, John L. Milani, Modesto Lamperti (Mary Milani) Joseph Silva, Jack Benz (Helen Silva) Bess Douglas and Charles Bee Reindollar. Also present were Mrs. J. W. Saliee of San Rafael, Mrs. Douglas' sister, and a new neighbor, Mrs. Edward Paganini. And over from San Francisco came Mrs. Barsuglia's daughter, Mrs. Leo Diner, her granddaughters, Mrs. John E. Donohoe (Adrian Diner) and great granddaughter, Laurie Donohoe.

Incidentally Mrs. Diner and two of her sons, J. P. and Christopher, leave tomorrow for 10 days in Carmel Valley and Mr. Diner, son, Roy, Mr. and Mrs. Donohoe and their baby Laurie and Mrs. Barsuglia will go down to visit them.

'Quietly Chic, Well Groomed' Describes Mrs. Richard Nixon

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Pat Nixon, Republican candidate for First Lady, is most often described by the fashion-conscious as "quietly chic and always well groomed."

She says she dresses on a budget, and haunts bargain sales for clothing for herself and her two daughters, aged 12 and 15. She's often seen shopping in Washington stores, and she sometimes uses local dressmakers.

Her fashion choices have been called "in good taste, subdued and suit her well-groomed outlook on life." She knows fabrics because she studied fashion merchandising in school.

The willowy wife of Vice President Richard Nixon is a perfect size 10; she's five feet five, and weighs 110 pounds. She wears a lot of beige and brown, and the colors go well with her light auburn hair and brown eyes.

Pat Nixon isn't label-conscious. When she does buy designer clothes, all the names are American, like Elizabeth Arden, Pauline Trigere, Fira Benenson and Jane Derby. She has very few things custom made.

Her inaugural gown in 1957 was a lustrous, ice-blue satin with bodice embroidered in pearls and crystals. It was, she said, "the only one I tried on." She got it at Elizabeth Arden's in New York City. It was blue, because her husband likes that shade.

Among her favorite costumes are the dress and jacket, a skirt with width (because she has to move about so much), and silk prints.

She favors small floral hats.

Pat Nixon has learned to live out of suitcases on trips with her husband. For the 1959 Russian trip, she fitted her wardrobe into two suitcases and a hatbox.

For a 16-day swing during the 1956 campaigns her wardrobe included four suits, eight hats and three pairs of shoes.

"I like to mix them up with different accessories like blouses," she told male reporters who commented on her pert and chic look through the grueling trip.

She once disclosed that she kept a record of what she wears on various trips "so I won't come back two years later in the same outfit."

During a 1958 press conference in London, she said: "I think a woman should be neat and well groomed and not overdressed. She should not be extravagant. When I want a suit, I just rush in and buy it."

C.I.T.'s Return From Treasure Mountain

Ten high school junior and senior Girl Scouts returned to Marin Saturday after completing the first half of a two-year course as counselors-in-training offered for the first time at Marin's Treasure Mountain established camp near Sierraville.

The girls, called the C.I.T.'s, spent one month at the camp under the direction of Mrs. Allen Tamblin of San Bruno who has had 30 years experience in Girl Scouting. Each girl was assigned to a staff member to work in all phases of camping activities including water safety, crafts, kitchen detail, nature consultation, book work and study sessions. The girls, who complete the course with another month at camp next year, will be qualified as counselors for Girl Scout camps in any area.

The other three C.I.T.'s were Charlene Hahn, Benicia; Deborah Googins, Albany; and Martie Howard, Oakland.

Moran-DuVall Rites Are Held In Mission

Mission San Rafael Arcangel was the setting for the wedding Saturday of Carole DuVall and Lance Moran. Rev. Bernard J. Cummins performed the double-ring ceremony. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. DuVall of San Rafael, was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a champagne peau de soie street length dress fashioned with a draped shoulder and a draped skirt. The short veil of eggshell illusion was attached to a draped hat of the dress fabric. She held a bouquet of ivory Fuji-mums.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Marlo Foster, from Lynwood, Wash., wore a short gown of moss green with a portrait collar and matching accessories.

The bridegroom's uncle, Timothy A. Moran of Redwood City, was best man. Guests were escorted by Michael Wilsey and Spencer Merryman, both of San Rafael.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. DuVall, wore a dress and jacket of Dior blue and matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. John A. Moran, wore a grey silk brocade sheath with hat to match.

The reception following the ceremony was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Moran of San Rafael. One hundred and twenty-five close friends and relatives attended the reception.

When the newlyweds left for their honeymoon in Nevada, the bride wore a beige suit tailored of imported British wool and trimmed with a brown velvet collar. Her turban was draped in matching brown velvet.

When they return from their honeymoon, the couple will make their home in San Rafael.

Good News For Gourmets

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Coming for your dinner table —more clams on the half shell, from the Gulf of Mexico.

This is the promise in new experiments in mariculture, or sea-farming. For it appears that northern hard clams can be seeded and grown profitable in warm, nutritious Gulf waters, augmenting the nation's supply of clams.

The experiments are described by Dr. R. W. Menzel of the Florida State University Oceanographic Institute, along with some lore about clams.

For one thing, most clams start life as males, but many change to female, and the sexes conveniently wind up about 50-50 when they are adult.

(Many oysters, he adds, do the same kind of sex switch. One species, in fact, alternates from female to male and back to female.)

If you order Cherrystone or Little Neck clams, you're getting the same thing—the only difference is size and locality where they grew. For all these clams belong to the same species, Mercenaria mercenaria.

Dr. Menzel is interested in sea farming as one method ultimately of meeting an expanding population's need for more food. Seacoasts offer millions of acres of additional land suitable for mariculture.

From Dr. V. L. Loosanoff, director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Laboratory, Milford, Conn., he obtained 300,000 tiny young clams, ranging up to one-fifth of an inch in size. Dr. Loosanoff has perfected a technique of spawning and rearing baby clams. The entire shipment was flown down in a briefcase.

Dr. Menzel planted them at various depths at Alligator Harbor, Fla., where the Oceanographic Institute has a Marine laboratory.

Within a year, on the average, the clams had grown to nearly 1½-inch length, and two inches by two years. Some reached three inches.

Apparently, he reports, two-inch clams for half-shell consumption can ge grown at a concentration of 50 per square foot. This would mean over 2,500 bushels per acre over a two-year period, and one man could probably farm the entire lot.

Don Carlbergs Christen Craft At A Gala Party

At a gala party on Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Don Carlberg of Little Reed Heights christened their new Chris Craft Commander the "14 Karat" at the San Francisco Yacht Club.

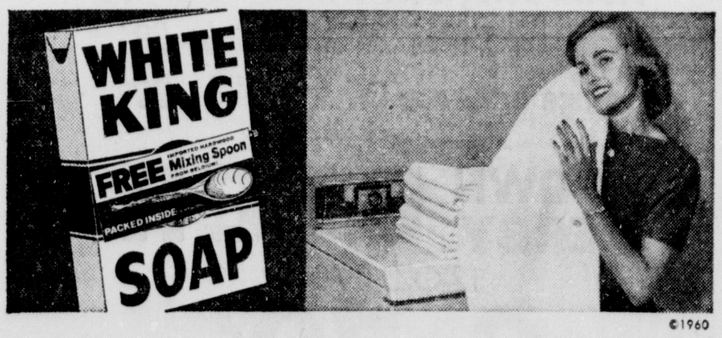

Eighty people arrived to watch Mrs. Carlberg break the bottle of champagne on the craft at 5 p.m. Twenty-eight of them stayed on for dinner at the club. Host and hostess duties were performed during the afternoon by Mrs. Carlberg's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kimball Palm of Mill Valley and by her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Millsap of Novato. Mrs. Millsap took charge of the guest book.

Among the guests were yacht club Commodore Leonard E. von Schultheis and Mrs. von Schulteis, Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Green who have recently moved to Paradise Cay and Dr. and Mrs. Larry Custer of San Francisco whose boat is berthed next to the "14 Karat" and from where the refreshments were served.

Also at the party were the Carlbergs' neighbors in Little Reed Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Kent L. Beardsley and Mrs. Frank Allen and the Willis Robertsons of Sausalito, the Robert Zeiglers from Belvedere, the Robert Stevensons of San Rafael, the Theodore Broedlows of the Marin Golf and Country Club Estates.

Others attending were the Paul Vogelheims of Mill Valley and the Ken Morgans and Norman Bullers of Greenbrae.

Volunteers To Staff Marin Fair Exhibit

Volunteers will staff a Marin County exhibit at the State Fair in Sacramento Aug. 31-Sept. 11 to answer questions about the county, County Administrator D. A. Jensen told the board of supervisors yesterday.

Jensen said his office is multilithing 7,000 copies of a small pamphlet to be handed to visitors. Chambers of Commerce have obtained volunteers who know the county well to staff the exhibit.

The supervisors authorized an expenditure of about $1,000 to pay mileage and meals for participants in the fair, and living expenses for the Chamber representatives who will answer questions on Marin.

In a progress report on other fair developments, Jensen reported the turntable and stage for the Marin exhibit has been completed by the Department of Public Works and is now at the Art and Garden Center in Ross, where various groups are practicing on it and examining it.

Tentative plans call for moving the turntable to Sacramento Aug. 17 and to set it up in the Marin exhibit space. While it is at Ross, Marin artists are painting and decorating the walls and backdrops on a volunteer basis.

Jensen said there had been a great deal of difficulty in scheduling groups to participate in the exhibit, and many had dropped out. As a result there will not be as heavy a schedule of "live" exhibitors as originally planned.

Participants will include pottery and ceramics demonstrators, Boy and Girl Scouts, artists, weavers, Campfire Girls, flower arrangers, musicians and others.

Samples of Marin County agricultural and industrial products also will be placed on exhibit.

Rudy Theurkauf of Sausalito, who builds exhibits for 10 or 12 other counties at the fair, will do the work of building a facade, lighting effects, art work and other finishing touches for the Marin exhibit.

Jensen said literally hundreds of persons representing many segments of the community had volunteered their time to make the fair a satisfactory project. "We feel the exhibit will be a good representation of Marin County and its diversity of interests and industry," he said.

The rate will be 11 cents; last year it was 24 cents.

Most of the budgets show decreases, but Bolinas will rise from 18 to 29 cents, Greenbrae will be up two cents from 11 to 13 cents, and Kentfield will be up a cent from 15 to 16 cents

Satirical Sketches Needle With Sagacity

By PAUL MILLER

Most Americans have been entertained to the hilt, through all media by the "pros" of the world.

Becoming bored by slapstick, extravaganza and conformity in comedy, mass audiences are leaning now toward comedy offering discerning comments, or a message, if you will, on modern society.

Mort Sahl and Jackie Gleason are examples of individual comedians in the discerning category. A comic production with a similar approach, and no less clever, is right here in Marin this summer.

It is the Festival Theater's production, "The Face Is Familiar," playing this month at the old gym (now marked "The Theater") Wednesdays through Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo. The players are the Strawhatters of Berkeley origin.

The comic and major portion of the production is a series of satirical sketches which sapiently deride, and at times blast the idiocy of much of modern advertising, including products being advertised, as well as needle with sagacity, the small mindedness and spiritual laxness of much of our society.

The sketches, most of which have been written by director and player Elizabeth Berryhill, are "downright" funny and are all done with affection; too often is malice the fuel of satire.

Of the some 20 sketches and acts, a "togetherness" speech played by Marjorie Casebier, of what is probably representative of an illiterate, good-hearted ladies aid society chairman, was worth the two bucks everyone worth his salt should toss into a hat that is passed (no admission is charged).

One of the most versatile and skillful of the revue's talented players is Robert Cowell. He adds that extra twist to a comic scene that turns it from amusing to funny.

It was most revealing to glance now and then at the audience. During a sketch depicting monks at a wine tasting ceremony at which one of the fathers extends the definition of the word taste, a group of formally educated semi-beatniks sitting in front of us laughed without restraint, while a stiff collared gentleman on my left was hardly amused.

In a later sketch in which beatniks in general were mocked, there was a glum silence on the row in front, while the man beside me chuckled throughout the scene. If you attend the revue you will no doubt have both your funnybone undulated and your ego anchored sometime during the evening.

Criticism may be leveled at the length of the production. This seems to be a tendency with the Festival Theater this summer. The theater's other superb production, "The Cup of Trembling," was also too long.

A lyrical number in the revue called "Ordinary Prince" could favorably be dumped, and the same action could be taken with the scene in which Berryhill runs around the auditorium with an air horn during a classical piano concert.

The highlight and uncontrolably laughable event of the evening is director Berryhill wearing a flowing, wide-sleeved robe, and what could well be spiked shoes, as she frantically, yet soberly, leads a small town choral society concert. Even the players had difficulty staying somber during this scene the night my wife and I attended.

It would indeed be a credit to the residents of Marin if they would support the Festival Theater in such manner that it would financially be able to permanently establish itself here.

A fall production is eagerly anticipated.

In the last 10 years the volume of direct mail has risen from 500 million dollars to 20 billion dollars.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Aug 10th, the 223rd day of the year, with 143 more to follow in 1960.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mars and Mercury.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1776, a committee composed of Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, and Thomas Jefferson, suggested "E Pluribus Unum" as the motto for the great seal of the United States.

In 1821, Missouri became the 24th state in the union.

In 1833, Chicago, population about 200, was incorporated as a village.

In 1874, Herbert Clark Hoover, 31st president of the U.S., was born in West Branch, Iowa.

A thought for today: Benjamin Franklin said: "Eat not to dullness; drink not to elevation."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden) Gate):

The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. PARTY PLATFORMS

State GOP Supporting Farmer, Demos Tend To Support Labor

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The official state party platforms showed today Republicans lean toward the farmer and grower and Democrats side with labor in the increasingly serious farm-labor dispute.

Both major parties held their biennial state conventions here during the past 10 days. Both adopted party platform planks which go to the heart of the efforts of the AFL-CIO to organize domestic workers on the farms and orchards of the fertile Sacramento-San Joaquin valleys.

The planks take almost diametrically opposite positions.

The Republican platform pledges these major things:

1. It endorses a federal, not a state, minimum wage law for workers "applicable to every state of the nation . . . which will not be discriminatory to California agriculture as such." Such a law, said the GOP platform, "Should not in any way hamper or tend to destroy the piece rate incentive system."

2. It recognizes the right and privilege of the agricultural worker to organize voluntarily —but not at the expense of the farmer losing his perishable crop. The key words are:

"Positive protection should be provided by law to prevent perishable crop losses through harassment by organizations pursuing unfair organizing methods and improper labor objectives."

3. It urges continuation and support of Public Law 78, the federal-state program to import Mexicans (Braceros) to harvest the crops.

The Republican platform spoke proudly of the working conditions and wages paid farm workers and noted that "these workers are among the highest paid agricultural workers in the U.S., receiving over 50 per cent more earned wages than the national average in agriculture."

In contrast to the Republican platform, the Democratic plank said "The plight of the farm worker has developed into one of the most serious social and economic issues in America."

"The goal of the Democratic Party is to rebuild our domestic labor supply . . . by raising the conditions of life and labor of farm workers to a level of parity with workers in non-agricultural industries.

"The Democratic Party rejects repressive actions against human beings pledged to improve their conditions of life and labor," the party's platform said.

To carry out the party's goal, the Democrats pledged support for:

1. Extension to farm workers of all federal and state labor laws and other socio-economic measures enacted in past years including a state as well as a national minimum wage. Pending enactment of a state minimum wage of $1.25 an hour, the plank said farm workers should be included in industrial welfare commission orders which regulate hours, working conditions and set wage minimums for women and children.

2. Extension of unemployment insurance, disability insurance and mandatory workmen's compensation for farm workers.

3. Importation of Braceros only when the need is "conclusively demonstrated" and only at wages and working conditions which "prevent the undermining of domestic standards and give meaningful effect to the prior rights of employment of domestics."

4. A program to secure for farm workers and their families "decent housing."

5. Legislation to secure and implement the right to organize and bargain collectively plus repeal of the jurisdictional strike act which the platform described as "A potent weapon in the hands of anti-labor elements intent on destroying free collective bargaining."

Five states claim the title of the "Switzerland of America." They are West Virginia, Colorado, Maine, New Jersey and New Hampshire.

Andrews, general practice; Charles Hoffman, pharmacy committee; Edward Vanderhoff, emergency; Craig Hope, medical records; James Stubbleine, psychiatry, and Dave Ivie, special services.

Marin Writers In Gift Collection

Members of the creative writing section of the American Assn. of University Women have presented a gift of books by Marin County authors to the county library.

The collection will be kept intact, Librarian Virginia Keating said, to be used as an exhibit by book clubs or other groups.

Included are juvenile books by Glen Dines, Josephine Blackstock, Edith and Clement Hurd; poetry collections by Stanton Coblentz, Rosalie Moore and Margaret Hindus; novels by Roal Faure, John Jennings and others.

Churches Out Of Luck On Tax Exemptions

County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel told the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday that the law does not permit him to grant tax exemptions to churches that failed to file application in time.

Several churches lost their tax exemptions through such failure, Broemmel had reported earlier.

Mrs. Carl Johnson of Fairfax wrote the supervisors a letter complaining of Broemmel's failure to grant the exemptions anyhow.

"The law leaves no room for discretion by the assessor when applications for exemption are not made on time," he declared.

"It's like someone wanting to vote the day after election."

Mumps Cases

Four cases of mumps, two of streptococcus infections and one of measles were reported in Marin County last week to the county health department.

Marin Woman Wins Freezer In Contest

There'll be no problem keeping meat and vegetables at the Arthur O. St. Clair home in Novato hereafter.

Mrs. St. Clair, who lives at 472 Wilson Avenue, is the winner of a 15-cubic-foot Frigidaire deluxe refrigerator given away by the Marin County Appliance Dealers Assn.

Winning numbers in the giveaway were drawn yesterday at Pacific Gas and Electric Co.'s San Rafael office by Linda Warren, who was this year's "Homemaker of Tomorrow" winner at San Rafael High School.

Four frozen food orders awarded by Marin Products Co. go to Mrs. Duane V. Moeller of 731 Bradley Avenue, Novato; Mrs. Harriet A. Scott of 116 La Goma Avenue, Mill Valley; Mrs. Dorothy L. Pollard of 1410 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, and Lois Eischen of 836 Eucalyptus Avenue, Novato.

Two reserved seat tickets to a San Francisco Giants baseball game, also awarded by Marin Products Co., go to Mrs. H. Bosch of 11 Meadow Drive, Santa Venetia.

Lawrence, Kan., was founded in 1854 by a group of abolitionists of the New England Emigrant Aid Society.

Turnover Of Employees In County Ranks Low

Marin County ranks low in turnover of regular county employees, compared to six surrounding counties and others of comparable size, the county board of supervisors was told yesterday.

The county's average monthly turnover rate for June, 1959, through May, 1960, was 1.42 per cent. Only Contra Costa County, with a 1.17 per cent rate, ranked lower. Of the other counties compared, Santa Barbara had the highest rate of turnover, 2.68 per cent.

Marin's turnover increased slightly to 1.47 per cent at the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

In a letter from Julius Selinger, chairman of the personnel commission, the board was given a comparison of turnover in Marin for 1959-60 when 17.6 per cent of employees were separated and 1956-57 when 23.52 per cent were separated.

The average number of regular employees for the year 1956-57 was 489; for 1959-60, 659.

Man Held To Answer In Morals Case

George S. McCown Jr. of 90 Louise Street, San Rafael, was held to answer in Marin County Superior Court on a charge of indecent exposure yesterday.

McCown, 26, is charged with exposing himself before a 15-year-old San Rafael Meadows girl. Arraignment in Superior Court was scheduled for Aug. 15 by Judge Richard M. Sims Jr.

In War Exercise

John J. Schembs, Navy seaman apprentice, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schembs of 118 Cypress Avenue, Kentfield, serving abroad the support aircraft carrier Kearsarge, took part in a joint Canadian-American anti-submarine warfare exercise from July 21 through Aug. 3 off the West Coast of the U.S. and Canada.

Some Advice On Minimizing The Risks Of Football This Fall

Have a son who plays football? Thousands of us do.

The season starts soon. Football is dangerous, but here are some ways to minimize the risks.

Medical Exam: Have your family doctor give your son a complete physical examination. He knows your boy and what to look for. The exam given at school may be good or bad so don't rely on it. If your boy has any physical defects, he shouldn't play. Don't let him sign up for football without your doctor's approval.

Equipment: Ask at school about the protective equipment your son will use. Is it complete and in good shape? A surprising number of schools do not have adequate equipment. Some schools provide fine equipment for varsity players, but little or nothing for the scrubs. Football is strenuous. Your boy will take a beating. He should not play without a complete set of equipment.

Schedule: Ask about the game schedule. Will your boy's team be matched against teams which clearly outclass it? Many schools arrange such games for the glory or the money involved. Bad injuries are common in them. Check also on the number of games. A short season is better than a long one.

Insurance: Ask about the player insurance your school provides. If there is none, ask why. Find out what would happen if your boy received a serious injury and was hospitalized for several weeks. Hospitals are expensive. Costs can run into hundreds of dollars per day. Would you have to pay? Could you? Or would insurance carry the burden?

First Aid: Ask if a doctor will be on the bench every minute of the game. Find out if he will be the one to check on the injuries players receive. Some boys are sure to be hurt. A doctor should look after them, not an amateur.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "How many boys will be killed playing football next fall?" T.D.

(A) If we have average luck the number will be between 12 and 25. Most of them will be high school students playing in school games.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Highway Route Subject Of KTIM 'Sounding Board'

The proposed four-lane freeway linking Olema to Highway 101 near Sausalito will be discussed on radio station KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" program at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Participating will be Frank P. Myer of Point Reyes, representing the Shoreline Highway Assn.; Bruce Kilgore, representing the Sierra Club; George Leonard, owner of the Stinson Beach Water Co.; George W. Wheelwright, owner of the Green Gulch Ranch, and Bryan McCarthy, attorney representing a group of Stinson Beach residents. Kitty Oppenheimer will be moderator, as usual.

Questions telephoned to the station during the broadcast will be directed to the panel members. The program will be rebroadcast from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Old Fire Wagon Moved Again

Sausalito's 1928 La France fire engine will move into its fourth home Monday — the IDESST slaughterhouse at Olema and Coloma Streets.

The red fire wagon, given to the city to be used in a park for youngsters to climb upon, had to be moved from Central School to make space for a new bus. Prior to that it was at Richardson Bay School and before that at the Sausalito firehouse.

The new home was offered by Manuel Brazil, IDESST president.

Investment Property Group Forms

A group of Bay Area business and professional men, all residents of Marin County, have formed a new corporation, Growth Properties Inc., to acquire and develop investment property in Northern California.

The new firm will establish its main office soon in the county, it was announced.

Edgar T. Lindner of Ross, San Francisco investment broker and president of the corporation, said the firm will invest in "sound properties, primarily commercial and industrial, but some residential."

Charles H. Allen, co-owner of Frank Howard Allen and Son, Marin County real estate firm, is vice president of the new corporation, and Robert W. Elliott, San Rafael attorney, secretary-treasurer.

Other directors are Robert C. Steele, co-owner of Frank Howard Allen and Son; Roger J. Darrow of San Rafael, president of Marin Title Guaranty Co.; Dr. Arnold A. Nutting, Marin County surgeon; Edward R. Bunting of Ross, president of Pacific Coast Securities and Jack M. Goldthwaite, vice president of First National Bank of San Rafael.

County Clerk Says Extra Elections Add To Expense

Bitter complaint was registered before the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday by County Clerk George S. Jones as two more notices of special elections were filed—a Tamalpais Union High School District bond election set for Oct. 11, and a change from Nov. 8 to Oct. 4 for a Terra Linda Recreation District election.

"Five school board elections are coming up between now and the general election," said Jones as he read the Tamalpais letter. "This adds extra expense, and a lot of extra work. They all select different date. The only object I can see is their hope that they may get a few more votes for their own projects that way."

Reading the Terra Linda letter, Jones sighed, "Another deal that adds to the cost."

Mineral Society Schedules Picnic

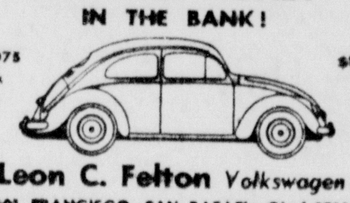

Marin Mineral Society's annual picnic, combined with monthly field trip and meeting, will be held at the Bolinas Community Club House on Bolinas Mesa, Sunday.

Guests will be members of the newly formed Berkeley Gem and Mineral Society.

Charles Geller of San Anselmo is in charge of arrangements. John Schuck of Larkspur will handle donations for the silent auction of rocks, minerals and fossil material. Proceeds of the auction go into the society's building fund.

Brown-Ely Drivers Honored, Dined For 18 Months Of Safe Operation

Brown-Ely Co., Greenbrae contracting firm, has been promoting a safety program among its drivers for the past 18 months.

It paid off for all participants last Friday night at a dinner held at the Wye Club, San Rafael, when the company's vice president, Vince Kelly, was able to present merit pins and bonuses across the board to 20 cautious drivers for the period between Jan. 1, 1959 and Jan. 1, 1960.

Special movies and talks on safety methods were a part of the program to emphasize the importance of their accomplishment.

During 1959 the firm's drivers were involved in only five accidents out of a total of hundreds of thousands of miles of vehicle operation. One of these accidents was considered nonpreventable.

On the heels of the record shown by Brown-Ely's self-imposed safety promotion the Industrial Indemnity Co. of San Francisco sent in its own award to the company for "outstanding safety achievement."

A splendid showing in driving technique and caution — have you done as well?

SOMETHING IN FIGURES you don't see very often: Most active county of the Bay Area in industrial permits last month was Marin with a total of $530,040. Santa Clara County came second with $469,240; San Mateo County had $392,400.

Total industrial building permits in the nine Bay Area counties during the first six months of this year reached almost 22 million dollars, a 34 per cent increase over the same period in 1959.

THE PACE in new private housing throughout the country this year has been less impressive. While construction during the month of June was approximately the same as in May, it was 15 per cent lower than in June, 1959. First three months this year were 18 per cent behind the same period of last year.

THE NEW JERSEY supreme court upheld a $30,000 judgment which placed partial responsibility for an auto crash caused by a new car defect on the manufacturer.

In spite of a clause in the contract limiting the manufacturer's responsibility for defective parts to replacement costs the court ruled in favor of the purchaser.

HENRY'S HAMBURGERS, a national chain of 117 drive-in restaurants in 20 states, may soon come to Marin. Robert A. Miller of San Francisco who has the franchise for California is presently negotiating for a lease in Fairfax.

It will be the second California drive-in for the chain — the first is now in the course of its opening at San Carlos, San Mateo County.

MARINBITS. Sam Coombs of Tiburon has joined the San Francisco office of McCann-Erickson Advertising as a copy group head in the creative department. He was formerly an assistant group head for Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborn, Inc. . . . B and B Auto Parts in Corte Madera has moved to its new quarters next to the I-J office on Corte Madera Avenue. . . . Look for another auto parts business soon (not B and B) in San Anselmo.

Sanitary Unit Wins Battle With County

Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District won a fight with the Marin County Board of Supervisors today after long, confused argument.

It had lost Round 1 last week when the board having passed a resolution to grant an easement for laying sewer pipe across the civic center, recoiled in horror from unexpected news of a $5,900 assessment bill against the county and rescinded its resolution.

Today the board again passed the easement resolution and authorized the auditor to pay the bill. Both actions were unanimous.

Mrs. Annie M. Reagan, sanitary district secretary, accompanied by other board members and the district's attorney, appeared today to renew their plea.

The next 45 minutes was devoted to discussions of everybody with everybody, joined by Marvin W. Brigham, public works director, and County Counsel Leland H. Jordan.

Everybody finally agreed that the district is to serve the Civic Center, so the county should pay the assessment.

Urban Thoroughfare Unit Meets Tomorrow

Another meeting of the Marin County urban thoroughfare committee, planning for increased county contributions to arterial highways running through cities, will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the county planning office at 1711 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

The meeting was asked by representatives of Larkspur, San Anselmo, Mill Valley and San Rafael, with the result that no presentation of the new scheme could be made today before the Marin County Board of Supervisors who recently caused organization of the group.

Thursday's meeting, fourth of a series, will consider draft of a letter which County Administrator D. A. Jensen is expected to present to the supervisors Aug. 16.

This is to accompany a joint report to be signed by the full committee, including representatives designated by the various city councils; Marvin W. Brigham, county director of public works, and Jensen, who during conferences up to now has been represented by his assistant, Alan Bruce.

The report will be sent about the same time to the city councils.

Jensen's letter will suggest that if the supervisors and councils agree in principle, a joint powers agreement, probably of five-year term, should be drafted by County Counsel Leland H. Jordan.

It is expected that the accompanying report will follow lines of the Orange County arterial financing program, modified to fit special needs of Marin County.

Jensen is expected to recommend that the Orange County formula be followed in determining total amount available for urban thoroughfare construction, from the highway users tax.

Calculations are expected to work out to a total of $2,156,562 available for the five-year period. It would be divided $1,158,074 in county territory and $998,338 in the cities, this latter amount to be matched by the cities.

The wedding and Caribbean honeymoon voyage aboard the royal yacht Britannia of Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones cost about $185,000.

$13,240 Bid Low For New Sewer Line

Directors of the Novato Sanitary District Tuesday night tentatively approved a $13,240 bid for construction of a new sewer line.

The line will run along Del Mar Avenue from Center Road to Hill Road and serve the Novato hospital, now being constructed.

S. H. Cervantes and Son of San Rafael was low bidder on the project, which will include laying almost a half mile of sewer line in from eight to four-inch lengths, installing manholes and pavement replacement. There were five other bidders, with a top bid of $18,684.

Directors also heard discussion of a proposed assessment district formation for financing improvements in the Novato Hills and Forrest Park Unit 7 subdivisions.

To Be In Test

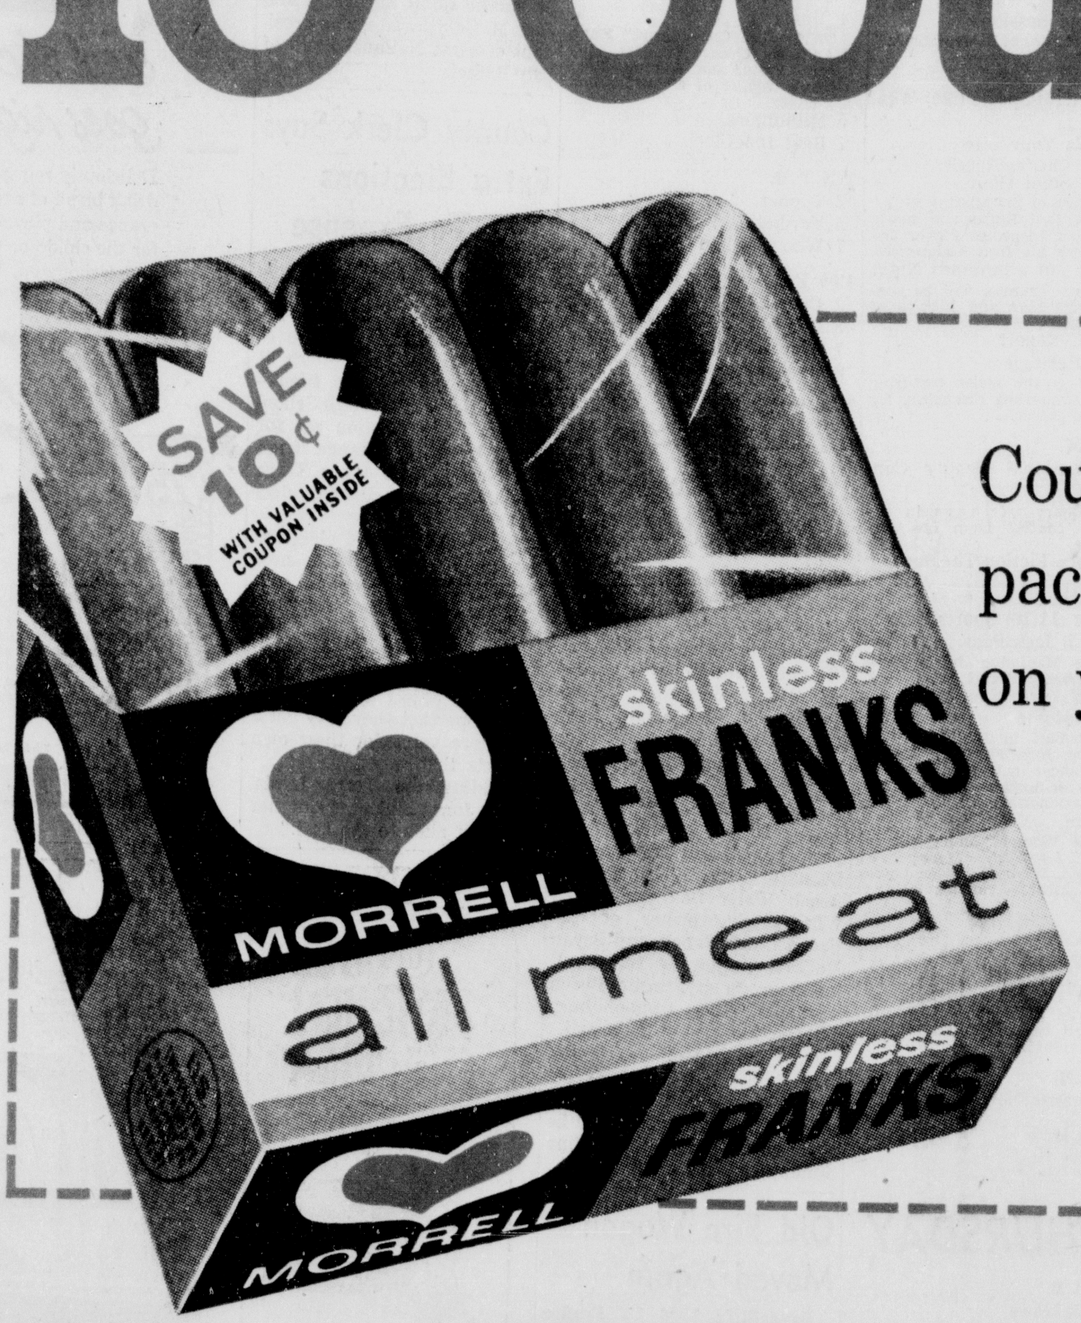

Army Sgt.1/c Wallace D. Myers, 30, of 490 Green Glen Way, Mill Valley, is scheduled to participate with other personnel from the 101st Airborne Division in Exercise Bright Star at Fort Bragg, N.C., Saturday through Aug. 28.

MOUNT TAM LOOKS DOWN ON A GROWING TOWN

This aerial view gives a graphic look at expanding Corte Madera. The big Corte Madera Shopping Center is at lower left, just beyond the Highway 101 cloverleaf, and to the center's right is the Edgewater Inn. Beyond are the sprawling units of Madera Gardens subdivision, grouped around their lagoons. White square almost in the middle of photo is the Neil Cummins schoolground. Still higher in the photo is the older section of town. (Aero Portraits photo)

Beauty Winner Takes The Cake

GASTONIA, N. C. (AP)—Even beauty contest winners have their troubles.

Mrs. North Carolina — Mrs. Nan Leaptrott, a minister's wife — explained her woes of cake baking in the national contest to the Lions Club here:

The pan she was given had a hole in it, and the cake batter ran through and burned.

After transferring the batter to another pan, she didn't have time to let it bake.

After she pulled out what cake she had and arranged it on a platter, another contestant brushed it and made it crumble.

"In spite of all of this," she says, "I put a lot of icing on it and covered up the bad spots."

She placed third in cake judging.

Buses Operated

More than 100,000 school busses operate daily during school months in the United States, covering more than 2,500,000 miles and carrying 7,000,000 school children.

Panhandler Hears Sad Story, Gives

BALTIMORE (AP) — As Lee Poist, a soft drink supervisor, sat in a truck the other day, a man approached and asked him for money.

To teach the man a lesson, Poist thought, he poured out his own sob story about how tough things were financially. Then he gasped as the panhandler pulled out a roll of $17 and peeled off $1 for Poist.

Poist says he'll keep it for life.

Back-To-School Event Opening At Center

Merchants at the Corte Madera Shopping Center tonight are opening a special back-to-school event with new merchandise offered at sale prices.

Stores will remain open until 9 p.m. tonight and Friday night. They open at 9:30 a.m. daily. Closing time tomorrow and Saturday is 5 p.m.

Now in stock are new clothing (skirt hems are up slightly) school shoes, pencils, paper, binders, typewriters and dozens of other items apt to be needed by returning scholars.

The 31 stores at the Corte Madera Shopping Center have joined together in the Corte Madera Merchants Assn. to offer the back-to-school bargains.

Only the center's Christmas program is bigger than the back-to-school event, one of 12 during the year for the Corte Madera merchants.

Plenty of parking is available at the shopping center with spaces for 2,100 cars.

The merchants group is headed by John Gray, manager of the J. C. Penney store. Directors include Ray Zierolf, manager of Littleman's Market; Robert Batty, manager of Montgomery Ward's; Jack Kramar, owner of Kramar's Shoes; and Robert Arman, manager of Woolworth's.

Eyes Bulge As Young Girl Places Bet

BOSTON (AP) — A veteran police sergeant and a detective who raided an alleged horse race betting establishment admitted they were a bit shocked when, just after the proprietor was arrested, a patron arrived to place a few bets.

She was a 13-year-old girl who appeared with $6 to place bets for her mother.

Colleges Feel Pinch Of Costs, Enrollment

WASHINGTON (AP) — American colleges and universities are caught in the tightening vice of booming enrollments and sky-rocketing costs. In the years ahead, higher education is not only going to be harder to get, its going to be much more expensive.

Last fall, 3¼ million students enrolled in the nation's institutions of higher education. By 1970, according to the experts, the figure will be at least six million, possibly seven.

Part of this is due to the rapidly growing population of the United States. Even more significant, perhaps, is the desire of more and more Americans for a better education.

The rising cost of education on every level is purely economic. Continuing inflation is driving the cost of everything upward.

In an effort to hold the fort against the swarm of high school graduates bearing down on them, the colleges and universities are getting more selective.

They're demanding better grades for admission — better grades in tough, academic courses.

In general, the applicant with poor high school grades is going to find it increasingly difficult to get into the college of his choice. Even the state universities, many of which have been forced by law to accept any graduate of a high school within the state, are tightening their admission standards.

The weak student may have to attend a junior college for a year or two to bring his credits up to par. Even then he may have to shop around a bit before he finds an institution of higher learning that will accept him.

However, the difficulties of getting into college aren't as great as they sometimes have been painted.

Many first-class schools find they have openings when classes actually get under way because many high school graduates, anxious to get started somewhere, apply to as many as four or five institutions. They may be accepted by three, but they can show up at only one.

The pressure is particularly acute on the so-called "prestige" colleges in six New England states—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut —and in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Ohio, says Dr. Nils Y. Wessell, president of Tufts University.

In their desire to attend a "prestige" school, many high school graduates are overlooking a good educational bet in the hundreds of small colleges scattered across the country, where in many cases a student can get a better education than in one of the big universities. The smaller colleges offer more personalized instruction than the larger schools.

The small colleges have another important advantage: in most cases they have lower tuition rates and living costs — something that will be increasingly important in the years ahead.

Today, the average college student pays about one-third of the actual cost of his education. In a state supported college or university he pays about one fifth the cost; in the more expensive private schools he pays less than half.

College officials are reluctantly raising tuition rates, but they can't be increased to a point where they meet the actual expenses of education. That would mean only the children of the rich could afford a college education. Meanwhile college presidents seek other funds from alumni donations, contributions from big corporations and philanthropic foundations, and increased state and federal aid.

Students Can Park If Grades High

EAST WINDSOR, Conn. (AP)— The board of education has dropped an unusual lure for pupils to try for high grades.

The parking lot at the high school will be off limits for all cars except those of seniors listed on the honor roll.

Board chairman Robert J. Raber says it's an effort to make an added incentive for scholastic attainment.

City Holds Tight To Parking Ban

RALSTON, Neb. (AP)—It's no longer legal to park automobiles on residentials streets — day or night — in this Omaha suburb of 3 800

Officials report the new ordinance is working out fine and Ralston residents are parking cars on their lawns or providing off-street parking.

The parking ban was inaugurated because many of Ralston's residential streets are too narrow to accommodate parking and two lanes of traffic.

Grass Talks

Cameras Help Keep Record Of School Days

There are no more lasting records of school days' highlights and hi-jinks than that of pictures. A camera these days is a "must" for the student.

From fixed-focus box cameras to pictures-in-a-minute cameras — to movie cameras and 35mm equipment, surely your favorite scholar will find the right one to match his skill and allowance.

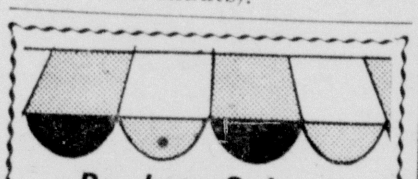

New photographic equipment now available to school-aged youngsters is taking the mechanics out of photography to give a free hand to imagination and creative skills.

Movie making, once deemed too involved an undertaking for the limited experience of the student, is now a push-button affair.

Faster film, electric eye cameras and compact, easy-to-handle camera designs are turning the camera club member into a very important person at sport matches, class play rehearsals, school ceremonies and other functions where he can capture scenes on film for purposes of critical analysis or school records.

Space Courses

About one-half of the accredited engineering colleges in the United States have courses and research to train space engineers (astronauts).

Light Bulb Burns, And Burns And Burns

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. C. E. Partlowe of Miami says she has a light bulb which has been in almost constant service since November, 1939, at least.

She found it in an attic trash box in that month and has no idea how long it was used before she ran across it. During much of its service with Mrs. Partlowe, the bulb has burned 24 hours a day in a hallway.

Sensible Eating Habits Can Be Encouraged When Young

Grade school is the time to encourage sensible eating habits. The youngster who can be trained to eat what will do good healthwise, in preference to junk, is well on the way toward developing a liking of what is essential for growth and health.

Milk helps build strong bones and teeth. Carrots make excellent food for eyes, hair, skin. Green vegetables contain iron for blood building. Beef and other proteins help maintain normal function of body cells.

Teen-age girls, especially, should learn that these are suppliers of beauty vitamins contributing to lustrous hair, sparkling eyes, a lovely complexion and a pretty figure.

Mother's job is not merely to supply these foods. They should be appetizing and properly served. Vegetables should not be cooked to a burn, meats should be broiled.

Youthful palates are distracted to enough sweets away from tables so that rich desserts should be only occasional treats at home.

Fruit, custard, fruit gelatin, are good desserts, to alternate to satisfy the desire for sweets. Puddings are desirable for youngsters who scorn milk.

Free Bikes Will Be Given Away

Three fortunate Marin youngsters will win bicycles during the Corte Madera Shopping Center's special "Back to School" sales starting tonight.

Free bikes will be given away on three consecutive Saturdays—Aug. 20, 27 and Sept. 3—at drawings to be held at 5:30 p.m. at the J. C. Penney store in the Corte Madera Center.

Tickets will be given out by shopping center merchants beginning tomorrow. Different tickets will be given out for each drawing. No purchase is necessary but youngsters must be accompanied by an adult to pick up a ticket.

The prizes are three lightweight bicycles with chrome fenders in a choice of colors. They sell retail at $49. Whether the prize is a boy's bike or a girl's bike will depend on the winner.

Instructions Same For Horses, Planes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—When Walter Morgan advises "keep your hands steady, ask for the power, take off," he may be instructing in a jet bomber or in the art of horse jumping.

An Air Force lieutenant colonel and command pilot, Morgan helps train young pilots at Lockbourne Air Force Base in flying the B47 bomber. He's also project officer for the base stables, where he trains jumping horses and their riders.
